County Commissioners Say They 'Might' Have 'Conflicts'

3 Board Members Differ On Ethics Code Covering Outside Business Interests

By NANCY BENJAMIN
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County Commissioners split three ways in defending, rejecting and amending a recommended "code of ethics" for county officials introduced by Board Chairman Del Lienemann this week.

But all three agreed that they might each possibly be "in conflict" in their business dealings on questions raised by the recommendation, and Lienemann and Russell Brehm said they'd be willing to open their books for inspection.

Lienemann, introducer of the recommendation which proposed a non-partisan committee draw up specific policies defining public office-business conflicts on the county level, stated:

"I have felt that there are occasions when lack of certain policies brought about certain situations which show the need of my current recommendation."

The accountant stressed that "present legislation defines the official's legal responsibility, not his moral responsibility."

'Some Have Single Dealings'

Stating that "to my knowledge, none of my clients are county suppliers," he explained that he knew of some cases in which his clients had "single dealings" with the county.

In relation to this, he explained that one company for which he did accounting submitted a joint equiment bid to the county board which was accepted, but added that he had been employed by the firm before becoming a county commissioner.

Another client, Lienemann said, supplied some drug orders to the County Welfare Board in dealings which were out of the range of the County Commissioners.

One client, a private club, does hold a beer license, Lienemann said, but explained that the license is only a minor portion of the club's business.

"I consider that conflict of interests arise only with regular suppliers of county orders under jurisdiction of the commissioners," he said. "And I have actually refused to accept clients, such as tavern owners, whose main business depends upon a county license."

"My skirts are clean or I wouldn't have brought up this matter," he said. "It is matters such as these that must be defined."

Lienemann stressed that he "would be glad to defend myself on any of these issues," and would open his books to inspection if necessary "because I am certain that all my clients will back me in allowing me to defend myself."

'By Ourselves'

Russell Brehm, owner of a printing company and of theater interests, commented that "I favor some sort of code of ethics worked out by ourselves (county commissioners) with a written gentleman's agreement to follow up the policy."

Brehm cited the City Council rules on conflicting interests and said it was his opinion that the county needed a similar type of code.

He objected to Lienemann's proposal that the policies be drawn up by an outside committee, stating that "this code must be worked out right and by the people that are going to follow it."

No Secret

Stating that he would open his books for inspection if necessary to back up his statements, Brehm said that he "made no secret that some of his advertising business was with county suppliers," and added that "I am willing to live up to any code we all agree upon."

Third member of the board, Rollin Bailey, a Lincoln attorney, called the Lienemann proposal "ridiculous at the county level," and added that "I told him (Lienemann) that when he proposed it—that it was silly and did not make sense."

Bailey explained that "if Lienemann is serious, I would propose that he take his suggestion to the State Legislature and thus cover all county officials and give the code the force of law with penalties provided."

'Would Mean Nothing'

The attorney explained that "any code of ethics at the county level would be without force of law and would mean nothing. The people pass on the ethics of their officials at the polls."

"Perhaps," he added, "there is additional information about this which might change my mind."

Bailey said "I'm glad to confirm that I have no dealings with county suppliers," and added "I probably do have a board position" which might come under the proposed code ruling.

He explained that he referred to a position on the board of the Salt-Wahoo Watershed Assn., which, before he was appointed a director, received a sum of money from the county in accordance with state law.

Atlas Missile Work Cut Back Three Times This Year . . .

LATEST SLOWDOWN ORDERED IN AUGUST

White House And AF Silent

Intercontinental Weapons Report Comes From Aircraft Industry

By BEM PRICE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Aircraft industry sources said Wednesday the Air Force's Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile procurement program has been cut back three times this year.

They said the last cut, ordered in August, resulted in the layoff of some workers by the Convair division of General Dynamics Corp. at San Diego.

This report from within the industry was supplied a week after President Eisenhower told his news conference that work on both the Intercontinental Ballistic Missiles (ICBM) and Intermediate Range Ballistic Missiles (IRBM) had been given top priority within the government.

No Comment

The White House and Air Force both declined comment on the report.

The aircraft sources, who talked with a reporter on the understanding they would not be identified, said that in addition to the cuts in Atlas missile purchases, Convair was told that funds for overall operations would be reduced 18 per cent over the next nine months.

They said the decision was left to Convair on whether to cut work further on the missile program or on the production of fighter-interceptors. The Air Force also refused to comment on this report.

The industry sources said Convair elected to proceed with the work on the Atlas and apply the fund reductions to aircraft schedules.

Secretary of State Dulles gave one assessment of the administration's attitude toward the missile program Wednesday when he told his news conference the United States still has military superiority over the Russians because of its lead in heavy bombers.

Dulles Likes Bombers

Dulles said manned bombers are still the decisive weapons in modern forces, although in five or ten years missiles may be.

There have been some reports here for the past two weeks that Russia is in quantity production on a two-stage, 100-foot long IRBM, known as the T-2 with a range of 1,800 miles.

The same reports from intelligence sources say the Russians fired two test versions of the ICBM in June and two more in September. One of the September shots was said to have been a preliminary to the launching of the Sputnik satellite Oct. 4.

Only Two Tested

As for the U.S. Atlas, which contains three rocket engines, the industry sources said it never had been firsed successfully and that, in fact, only two of its three rocket motors had been tested. They said there has been no point in trying out the third engine until the bugs have been worked out of the first two.

By DARRELL GARWOOD

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Air Force reluctantly admitted failure Wednesday in the first four attempts to fire rockets to a record 4,000-mile altitude in a project designed ultimately to reach the moon.

The 30-foot-long, multi-stage rockets, built in "Project Farside," were to have been fired straight up from balloon platforms at an altitude of 100,000 feet over Eniwetok Atoll in the Pacific.

Two of the failures occurred before Russia successfully launched her earth satellite on Oct. 4, and two since that date. All were blamed on unfavorable weather affecting the balloons.

HAPPY COUPLE VISIT U.S.

Queen Given Royal Welcome To U.S.

. . . Prays For 'Just, Lasting Peace'

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II arrived to a royal welcome in the United States and promptly bowed her head in a prayer for a "just and lasting peace."

The shy young monarch, the first reigning British Queen to visit North America, started her 6-day U.S. stay in storied Virginia.

Ironically it was at Patrick Henry Airport—named after the red-haired firebrand from the land where Britain gained and lost her first colonial possessions in the new world.

But the irony was lost on the thousands—estimates centered around 30,000—who turned out to greet her. The airport reception was restrained; as though the crowd felt it bad manners to yell at so demure a Queen. But at the Jamestown Festival, where she took part in the 350th anniversary of the founding of Britain's first American colony, excitement took hold.

At one point, as Elizabeth responded to the official welcome from Virginia's Gov. Thomas B. Stanley, a small section of the crowd jumped the rope barrier for a closer look. Some had been waiting for her there for eight hours.

A 21-gun salue boomed at the airport. Elizabeth took the salute, inspected the honor guard and—speaking for herself and her husband, Prince Philip, declared:

"We are . . . particularly happy that our first stop is in the beautiful Old Dominion State."

It was at the picturesque old church on Jamestown Island, 25 miles away by bubble-top motorcade, that Elizabeth bowed her head in prayer. Episcopal bishop George P. Gunn of Norfolk prayed with Elizabeth for "peace which is the fruit of righteousness."

The official welcome for the United States government was extended by Wiley T. Buchanan, U.S. chief of protocol. Buchanan delighted scrambling photographers when he took the pert Elizabeth by the elbow and asked her to stop awhile and pose.

Uneventful

The royal couple's flight from Ottawa in a Royal Canadian Air Force transport had been quick and uneventful.

Elizabeth, on her first visit to the United States as Queen, goes Thursday to another full-scale reception in Washington. There she is being met at the airport by President Eisenhower. She flies to Washington in Eisenhower's plane, Columbine III.

Syria Declares An Emergency

Turkish Tanks And Men Reported On Border; Arms Distributed

BEIRUT (INS) — Arab sources said Wednesday night that Syria's Army has declared a state of emergency and cancelled all leaves because of reported heavy concentrations of Turkish tanks and men on the frontier.

Egypt's Middle East news agency reported that arms are being distributed to members of "popular resistance" organizations and youth groups in Aleppo, Syria's largest city, Homs and other towns in northern Syria.

The agency reported Syria's declaration of a state of emergency after Damascus dispatches told of "extremely large Turkish concentrations" on the border.

The Arab news agency quoted an "authoritative source" as saying that the Turkish concentrations, "including about 200 tanks," were seen near the Syrian frontier "within the last few hours."

The Egyptian-Syrian joint command was reported to have gone into permanent session.

Denied

Syrian and Soviet charges that Turkey and the U.S. planned an attack on Syria have been denied. The Turks said they were carrying out military maneuvers near their frontier.

Istanbul dispatches reported Turkey has rejected Syria's note, delivered last Thursday, accusing Turkey of "provocative acts."

'Attack' Planned

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union called on the U.N. Wednesday to halt a surprise attack on Syria allegedly planned by the United States and Turkey. Russia offered to join other U.N. members in supplying military forces to meet such an attack.

The Russians charged that the United States is urging Turkey to launch an attack with "lightning speed," in order to confront the U.N. with a situation whereby the world organization "may have no time to take steps to prevent aggression."

His challenge to the United States came just hours after Secretary of State John Foster Dulles voiced an equally formidable warning in Washington that the United States will fight if Russia attacks Turkey.

The parallel statements from the foreign policy chiefs of the world's two rival atomic powers precipitated the greatest diplomatic crisis since the allied invasion of Egypt a year ago.

The Soviet accusation came on the heels of these swift develop-

Couple Die In Crash

. . . Clay Center

CLAY CENTER, Neb. (AP)—A Davenport, Neb., couple was killed Wednesday night in a car-truck collision at the intersection of Highway 41 and a farm road 10 miles east of Clay Center.

Dead, according to Clay County Sheriff H. J. Hoyt, are: Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Jagels. He was 61 and she 56, the sheriff said.

The Jagels' car collided with a truck driven by Ed Richow of Geneva, Neb. Rochow was taken to a Hastings, Neb., hospital.

The impact threw Jagel's body some 80 feet, the sheriff reported.

The deaths brought the Nebraska traffic fatality toll for 1957 to 229, compared with 242 at this time last year.

Donkey Proves True Blue— Saves Rau From 'Payoff'

Stubbornness, that is, on the part of a donkey—"Miss Prunes," owned by Cherie Solheim, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Selmer Solheim.

Rau was on the losing end of a United Fund gag, whereby the chairman of the lowest employe division was to ride a donkey from the Chamber of Commerce to Magee's to post the day's total.

Two men who went to collect "Miss Prunes" for the ride found a donkey who wanted to live up to her reputation of being a stubborn animal.

For nearly an hour "Miss Prunes" was cajoled, pleaded with pulled and pushed. She was fed pop, marshmallows, raisin bread toast and cookies, "her favorites," according to Mrs. Solheim.

Because of the reluctance of "Miss Prunes," Rau was saved from a ride, but instead posted the results after climbing a fire department ladder.

MISSING OMAHA STUDENT ON HER WAY BACK HOME

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A 16-year-old Brownell Hall student, missing from the Omaha school since last Sunday, was en route home to Des Moines with her parents Wednesday night after being reunited with them here.

Suzanne Laing went to police headquarters after seeing her picture on a local TV station and hearing an appeal by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Laing, to come home.

The Laings left here by train for Des Moines Wednesday night.

Suzanne reportedly came here by bus from Omaha Sunday and had been staying with a girl friend.

Capt. Harry Green of the Omaha Police Department said the girl's parents, Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Laing, Des Moines, flew to Kansas City Wednesday and appealed by radio for their daughter to return.

The trip of the Laings to Kansas City followed a report to the Omaha police by an Omaha woman that a girl resembling Miss Laing had been on a bus, bound for Kansas City, that the Omahan rode to Plattsmouth, south of Omaha.

Elgin's 'Half-Capacity' Operation Here Problem

. . . Firm Cutting Watch Production

By BARC BAYLEY
Star Staff Writer

The fact that the Elgin National Watch Co. plant in Lincoln is operating at less than one-half capacity poses a major problem for the firm, Elgin President J. G. Shennan said Wednesday in announcing the company's domestic watch production is being reduced.

Shennan, in a statement from the company's home office at Elgin, Ill., said, however, that "no decisions have been made prejudicing that plant's future."

"We are making every effort to continue profitable operations at Lincoln," he said. "We are seeking new types of production and are investigating other alternatives that might help employment there."

Some 60 per cent of the Lincoln plant's employes are engaged in watch work, Richard Brandes, manager of the Lincoln plant, said Wednesday night. About 850 are currently employed at the local plant, he said, compared to 1,700 during times of full production.

Watches 'Main Line'

Watches are definitely the "main line" at the Lincoln plant, Brandes added, despite the large amount of military-contract production of electronics and other equipment.

Earlier Wednesday Shennan announced that the Elgin dividend rate, which had been 15 cents a quarter for the past year, is being reduced to a nominal basis of 5 cents a quarter "until a sound earnings trend justifies a higher rate."

He revealed that, for the 28 weeks ended Sept. 14, Elgin reported an operating loss of $605,648 on consolidated sales of $16,229,351. For the same period last year earnings were $115,486 on consolidated sales of $21,197,449.

'No Deterioration'

The company president said, however, "that no substantial deterioration of the firm's strong financial position is expected."

Shennan said the company's biggest problem involves the present use of only 50 per cent of its watch production capacity, a condition he blamed on "an increasing volume of imported watches in the domestic market."

These imports force the company to increase its own imports and trim domestic production "to fit realistic estimates of the market for U.S.-made watches," he added.

Vic Says: 'No Plans' For Senate

Lincoln Star Special

SOUTH SIOUX CITY, Neb.—Gov. Victor Anderson said here Wednesday night he has "no plans to run for the U.S. Senate."

Asked for comment on the proposal by Nebraska AFL-CIO President Gordon Preble that he (Anderson) run for the U.S. Senate in 1960, the governor said:

"I have announced my candidacy for another term as governor of Nebraska, and have stated previously and still say that when I have completed my service as governor I expect to return to my business and Havelock."

A banker and hardware merchant, Anderson will seek the Republican nomination as the state's chief executive in the May primary election next year.

Abandoned 'Little Darling' Taken Home

HEBRON, Neb. (AP) — Two-year-old Danny McLachen Wednesday night was turned over to his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gallipeau of Kansas City, Kan., after having been a "little darling" while cared for by welfare workers following his abandonment here Monday.

Danny was abandoned by Phillip Dean Ireton, 14, of Kansas City, after Ireton threatened to shoot a deputy sheriff who was questioning him about the uncared for condition of the boy.

Ireton, now in jail at Kansas City, Kan., has said he had agreed to take the boy, son by a former marriage of Mrs. Charles Spotted Eagle, from Redfield, S.D., to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gallipeau, parents of Mrs. Spotted Eagle.

Gallipeau, who came here with his wife and returned to Kansas City by bus, is a railroad employe.

'Sacked' Student Costs Frat $250, Privileges

By HAL HASSELBALCH
Star Staff Writer

A University of Nebraska fraternity lost its social privileges for the academic year, was denied initiation privileges for the fall semester and was fined $250 Wednesday night, the outcome of a prank last week.

Action was taken by the university Inter-Fraternity Council against Theta Chi after several members of the fraternity were involved in a hazing incident in which a pledge was partially disrobed, enveloped in a mattress cover and thrown inside the Delta Delta Delta sorority house.

The council action was premised on an article in the council constitution forbidding hazing that tends to reflect discredit upon college fraternities as a group.

All fraternities at the university belong to the organization.

First Such Action

According to the council president, Dick Arneson of Inavale, this was the first time the council has had responsibility for disciplinary measures of this type. The case was referred to the council by the university administration following a complaint by the sorority house mother.

Eldon Linder, of York, president of Theta Chi, said the fraternity will abide by the decision of the council.

The incident was the climax of an evening of intrafraternity rivalry. The pledges had taken their annual sneak, stolen the dinner of the active members, and returned to the house to harass the actives.

Had Only Underwear

One of the pledges was captured by the actives. A tussle ensued, he was stripped to his under shorts, wrapped in the mattress cover and spirited away.

Linder emphasized that "no indignities were meant to the sorority." He said the fraternity apologized to the sorority and its house mother as soon as Theta Chi realized the seriousness of the prank.

The boy who was 'sacked' was not hurt, he said, and no malice was held toward the pledge, who was described as being one of the most popular fellows in the fraternity.

But, Linder said, he thought there was justification for the council reprimand.

Frank H. Hallgren, associate dean of student affairs, said the council action will be reviewed by the administration, but he said he did not know if the university would take further action.

Lincoln's Fire Progress Report Is Greeted Favoracly

Bureau Gets Bid To Put City Back Up

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The report of Lincoln's progress to regain its Class 4 fire protection rating appeared favorably received Wednesday at the Nebraska Inspection Bureau in Omaha.

City officials met in Omaha with Bureau representatives to discuss the "progress report" submitted on fire improvements made, those to be effected by Jan. 1 and those to be completed during 1958.

Mayor Bennett Martin said evaluation of Lincoln's "progress report" must come from the National Board of Fire Underwriters at Chicago, but Bureau representatives were "quite surprised and complimentary" concerning the city's fire improvement program.

Martin guessed the city should hear "within the next couple weeks."

Loss of the Class 4 rating could increase fire insurance premiums on Lincoln homes by $150,000 to $180,000 a year.

If additional action — following the Omaha meeting—were needed, Martin was prepared to call a special Council meeting yet this week.

"No special meeting will be called," Martin said Wednesday night.

The progress report, in addition to improvements already affected or to be completed by Jan. 1, included a new fire station for south Lincoln and two elevated water reservoirs to be completed in 1958.

City officials who went to Omaha were Councilmen Hugh Thorne and D. L. Tyrrell, Safety Director Emmett Junge, City Co-ordinator James Mallon, City Engineer Carl Fisher, Fire Chief Paul Feaster, and Martin.

50 Attend Dakota County Young GOP Organization Meet

Lincoln Star Special

SOUTH SIOUX CITY, Neb.—A group of 50 persons met here Wednesday night for the organizational meeting of the Young Republican Club of Dakota County.

The meeting was conducted by Ralph Beermann of Dakota City and Les Sheperd of South Sioux City was named temporary chairman of the group.

Marilyn Legg and Peter Smith, both of Fremont and officers of the Nebraska Young GOP, were at the meeting.

Gov. Victor Anderson addressed the meeting and told its members that Nebraska was one of three states in the nation that had a reduction in state taxes in 1956.

He said Nebraska's state taxes total $52.10, compared with the national average of more than $80 per person in state taxes.

Anderson said he "expects to keep holding the line against any increase in the cost of state government."

Love Of Music Saves Woman's Limited Sight

. . . Quick Operation Aids Near-Blind Patient

By AL HOLBERT
Star Staff Writer

The limited sight that Veronica Heimann of St. Elizabeth Hospital has remaining will be extended by several more years partly because of her love for classical music.

Miss Heimann, 37, a near-blind employe in the hospital maternity ward, listens regularly to classical music programs. After writing to a local announcer to express her appreciation for his program and to make some requests, she received a visit from the broadcaster.

Seeing her condition, he persuaded Miss Heimann to visit a Lincoln opthalomologist for a routine check up. The doctor discovered that her left eye was in danger of rupturing and he operated last Monday. The doctor donated his services.

Was An Emergency

Although Miss Heimann didn't realize it at that time, it was an emergency operation without which the little remaining sight of the eye would have been lost in a matter of days.

Born and raised in Lindsay, Neb., Miss Heimann attributes her interest in classical music to the four years she spent at the Nebraska School for the Blind in Nebraska City.

She didn't enter the school until she was 19, but while there, besides studying voice and participating in various vocal ensembles, she learned to use the typewriter and to read and write Braille which she says, "have made my life worth living."

Chopin Her 'Buddy'

"Chopin is my buddy," she explains, and adds that she listens to "every and any classical program I can find." Besides her "buddy," she lists Schubert and Brahms as her favorite composers. In addition to her listening activities Miss Heimann plays the piano and accordian by ear.

Next to classical music, she enjoys writing letters and corresponds with about 30 people regularly. Considering that it takes over a half hour to produce a Braille letter with her special equipment, this proves to be an ambitious undertaking. For letters to her seeing friends, she can write flawlessly on the typewriter.

Recovering presently at St. Elizabeth, Miss Heimann has received flowers from the announcer and his sponsors, and has a radio so she can continue pursuing of her favorite pastime.

Ike Names A. Larson New Aide

To Counter Russian Propaganda Efforts

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, in a shift of top cold war information posts, Wednesday made Arthur Larson his special assistant for countering Russian propaganda on earth satellites and similar developments.

To replace Larson as chief of the U.S. Information Agency (USIA), Eisenhower chose a career diplomat, George V. Allen, former assistant secretary of state for the Near East and now ambassador to Greece.

Presidential press secretary James Hagerty, who announced the changes, was asked whether Larson's new appointment amounted to reviving a psychological warfare job once headed by magazine executive C. D. Jackson.

"Partly," Hagerty replied.

Hagerty was questioned at his news conference about criticism that the administration failed to recognize the amount of propaganda value the Soviets would derive from their satellite success. He said Larson's job "among other things" will be to help counteract such propaganda.

Ike Praise

Larson, a lawyer and professor with a specialty in labor law, has been praised by Eisenhower as a definer of Republican philosophy.

He also has been under hot fire from Democrats in Congress because of criticism of the Democratic party he made in a speech in Hawaii, while he was head of USIA.

The Democratic-controlled Congress voted USIA a sharply reduced appropriation and since then there have been rumors Larson would resign.

However, when Hagerty was asked whether Larson was being shifted out of USIA because of any administration feeling that his usefulness had been impaired, Hagerty replied, "I don't think so." He said specifically the appropriation cut was not a factor.

Hagerty said Allen's wide diplomatic experience makes him "a good choice" as USIA chief. Allen has served as ambassador to Iran, India, Yugoslavia and NATO.

Larson, whose nomination must be passed on by the Senate, will be given a recess appointment until Congress reconvenes in January, Hagerty said.

GOP Chairman:

'Republicans In South Are Back In Fold'

WASHINGTON (INS) — Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn said Wednesday that many of the Southern GOP leaders who resigned party posts because of the school integration dispute are now "returning to the fold."

Alcorn also predicted the integration crisis will be a political issue in the 1958 congressional elections. He conceded that the GOP suffered some damage when President Eisenhower sent troops into Little Rock, but said the party is rapidly recovering.

He said in one Southern state 20 of 24 Republicans who resigned party posts because of Little Rock have returned to GOP ranks.

Alcorn chatted with newsmen at the White House after conferring on undisclosed party problems with chief presidential assistant Sherman Adams.

NEW ECONOMY MOVES MADE BY U.S. NAVY

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Navy announced that its Marine Corps Auxiliary Air Station at Mojave, Calif., will be transferred to Yuma, Ariz., early in 1959 to save $81 million in modernization costs at the present site.

The Air Force said it has agreed to make Vincent Air Force Base and its associated gunnery range at Yuma available to the Navy in the economy move.

Surviving Twins Doing Just Fine

Identical twins, the survivors of triplets born Tuesday to 1st Lt. and Mrs. Larry Garrett of 2934 No. Cotner were reported doing well Wednesday.

The boys were weighed officially Wednesday. Ricky Dean, the oldest of the two by about 20 minutes, weighed two pounds, nine and one half ounces. Nicky Gene weighed two pounds, eleven ounces. Both are in an incubator.

Mrs. Garrett did not know she could expect a multiple birth until she was examined Tuesday morning. And nobody predicted triplets.

The third boy, not identical with the other two died Tuesday night after four and a half hours in an incubator.

Teamsters Call Ruling Interference

Hoffa Election 'Internal Affair'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Teamsters Union said Wednesday a federal court challenge of James R. Hoffa's election as Teamsters president is an unwarranted interference with labor union internal affairs.

The union said a Federal Court judge who has temporarily restrained Hoffa from taking office lacks jurisdiction to pass on the legality of delegates seated at the union's convention.

Teamsters Union attorneys made the contentions in an answer filed in Federal District Court late Wednesday seeking dismissal of an injunction suit brought by a group of New York rank-and-file Teamsters members. These members claim delegates to the convention were hand-picked to insure the election of Hoffa.

Hoffa was overwhelmingly elected to succeed Dave Beck, who like Hoffa has been linked in Senate Rackets Committee testimony with charges involving alleged misuse of union funds and abuse of union powers.

Beck To Remain

Beck issued a terse statement saying that in view of the court challenge of Hoffa's election he will remain as union president for the time being.

The view in labor circles was that regardless of whether Beck or Hoffa is at the helm of the nation's largest labor union the AFL-CIO executive council late next week probably will suspend the Teamsters from federation membership. The council has labeled both Beck and Hoffa as corrupt.

There were reports of discussions among Hoffa's followers that new Teamsters elections might be an answer to some of Hoffa's problems. They said they were sure Hoffa would win any elections re-run, possibly by better than the 3 to 1 margin he managed before.

Syria Declares Emergency

ments in the U.N. on the explosive Middle East situation:

1. Syria informed U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold that an attack by Turkey was imminent. Syria requested the 82-nation General Assembly be called into session immediately to appoint a U.N. commission to investigate the situation on the tense Turkish-Syrian frontier.

(In Amman, King Hussein told Western and Arab envoys that Jordan would help Syria in any showdown and would consider an attack on Syria to be an attack on all Arab countries.)

2. The United States quickly endorsed the move to have the Assembly consider the situation in the Middle East. "A prompt investigation of the developments should help to ease tensions as well as to clarify who it is that threatens peace in the area," a spokesman for the U.S. delegation at the U.N. said.

It was apparent that the Soviet Union and Syria were making associated moves in the United Nations.

The Soviet accusations against the United States were contained in a 1,200-word letter from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to Sir Leslie Munro, president of the Assembly. Copies of the letter were distributed several hours after the Syrian request for Assembly action was released.

Might Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles warned Wednesday the United States might attack Russian territory in retaliation for any Soviet aggression against Turkey.

He said at a news conference, however, it was unlikely any such war would break out in the Middle East.

"Certainly if there was an attack on Turkey by the Soviet Union," he said, "it would not mean a purely defensive operation by the United States with the Soviet Union a privileged sanctuary from which to attack Turkey."

Dulles issued his warning in reaffirming American determination to uphold treaty pledges to go to Turkey's aid in the event it is attacked.

Dulles coupled this with a blistering attack on Soviet policy. He scornfully rejected Moscow's bid for exclusive Soviet-American deals to "divide up the world," as he put it.

Such Soviet-American deals, he said, would mean abandoning trusted allies for a kind of "overlordship" which in the end would be disastrous.

Dulles frankly acknowledged that the Soviets "probably have some advance over us" in intercontinental missiles as a result of successful tests which they have claimed within the past month. But he said the United States still has "a very marked superiority" in actual military power particularly in heavy bombers. Such bomber fleets "for some years to come" will be the most effective means of hitting far away targets with bombs, he said.

Dulles viewed Russia's success in launching an earth satellite as "a good thing." It jarred complacency evident among Americans, he said, who automatically assumed Russia could never beat them in any field.

The Eisenhower administration, however, he maintained, never shared this complacency.

Crippled Plane Safe On Coast

. . . 68 On Transport

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Navy Constellation transport plane with 68 persons aboard and one of its four engines disabled landed safely at Travis Air Force Base Wednesday on a flight from Hawaii.

The big plane was escorted to the mainland by an amphibian from the 41st Air Rescue Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base which met the transport 300 miles off the coast.

The transport, carrying 55 passengers and a crew of 13, departed on a routine flight from Hickam Air Force Base near Honolulu to Moffett Field, a Navy base. Its No. 4 engine went dead when it was beyond the point of no return.

It was ordered to land at Travis AFB northeast of San Francisco because of the longer runways and better emergency equipment.

Services At Alma For Mrs. Mackie, Pioneer Of State

ALMA, Neb. — Funeral services were held in Alma for Mrs. Mary C. Mackie, 90, resident of Alma since 1916.

Born near Rosendale, Mo., she came to Nebraska in a covered wagon after her marriage to George A. Mackie of Rosendale. The couple made their home in a sod house northeast of Huntley for a time.

Surviving are six daughters, Mrs. William Kerr of Orleans, Mrs. R. T. Johnson of Ong, Verna of Valley City, N.D., Georgia of Beatrice, and Ida and Mildred, both of Alma.

American Research Seems Headed For Worst Crisis In Postwar Era

UNIVERSITY TEAMS BEGIN BREAKING UP

. . . DEFENSE MONEY NOT FORTHCOMING

BOSTON (AP)—The Christian Science Monitor said that because of cutbacks in defense expenditures American research is heading into "the worst crisis of the postwar years."

Robert C. Cowen, natural science editor of the Monitor, wrote:

". . . Breakup is imminent for many, if not all, university teams dependent on defense money. This includes a heavy fraction of all University research. Some such teams already have been destroyed.

"In other cases private research contractors are having their defense contracts terminated ahead of schedule as available money is cut back anywhere from 50 to 100 per cent.

"Because defense contracts are woven throughout the fabric of American research, these cutbacks are jeopardizing a large share of that research. All but highest priority projects are being curtailed. Valuable research teams are being disbanded, and much time is being lost on other projects.

"Also, since a large proportion of graduate students in science and engineering are supported by Defense Department money, directly or indirectly, this could have a serious effect on advanced technical education."

Can't Get At It

Cowen wrote that there is plenty of research money in the budget authorizations voted by Congress, "more in some cases than last year. But agencies can't get at it. The expenditure ceiling imposed because Treasury withdrawals are dangerously near the debt limit, is standing in the way."

"University research is a good illustration," Cowen wrote, "because most university defense contracts are renewed on a year-by-year basis. Over the past 10 years many of the long term university research programs have gone on this way with yearly contract renewals being essentially automatic.

"But this year many contracts are not being renewed. Universities find themselves with research staffs on their hands which had been hired on the basis of expected continued support, but for which no money is going to be available."

Moon Eyed By Russians

LOS ANGELES (INS) — The Los Angeles Examiner reported that a European scientist has informed it that the Russians will try to hit the moon with a rocket on Nov. 7.

Nov. 7 is the 40th anniversary of Lenin's accession to power.

The scientist told the Examiner that his information was based on talks with rocket experts who have escaped from the huge Russian rocket and missile base at Peenemunde, Germany.

He said that three huge rockets would be aimed at the moon from the same Caspian Sea base from which the Red satellite was launched.

He added:

If at least one of the rockets reaches the moon, the Soviet government will announce its success to the world.

Three More Ready

If they fail, three more rockets will be fired. If these, too, fail the Russians will call off the project momentarily to make new calculations.

The rockets, the scientist said, are of the three-stage type and the first stage develops a thrust of 216,000 pounds, a prodigious amount of power.

The moon is 235,000 miles away. In order to escape the earth's gravitational field the rocket will have to attain a speed of 25,000 miles an hour.

The scientist expressed reluctant admiration for Russian technological feats in rocketry and missile work.

He said:

"When I think of what they have been able to accomplish, I am sick."

Red Chiefs To Gather

PARIS (INS) — The greatest gathering of Communist chieftains in history is set for Moscow next month when the Soviet Union celebrates the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia, Wladyslaw Gomulka of Poland and probably Mao Tse-tung of Red China are expected to be there.

Walter Ulbricht of East Germany and Antonin Zapotocky of Czechoslovakia also are expected to join the parade of the Communist clan to Moscow.

A Western diplomatic source said there had been some doubt whether Tito would attend, until he risked the anger of the West by recognizing the East German government on Tuesday.

The diplomat said:

"We had heard Tito was reluctant to go and was looking for a graceful way out. Maybe recognition of East Germany shows he no longer is looking for a way out."

The gathering of the Communist leaders is expected to develop into the most important kind of global strategy conference.

BEATRICE, Neb. — Funeral services for Ben Fitzwater, 46, retired carpenter who died at a Beatrice hospital, will be at 2 p.m. Friday at Centenary Methodist Church at Beatrice. Burial will be in Filley Cemetery at Filley.

He was a member of Centenary Methodist Church of Beatrice and came from Virginia, Neb., with his parents 42 years ago.

Survivors include his wife, Gertrude; one son, Don B. of Beatrice; four brothers, Floyd of Beatrice, Ernie of Kellerton, Ia., Rolland and Raymond, both of Denver, Colo.; six sisters, Mrs. Wanda Swartzleonard of Lincoln, Mrs. Velma Widmar, Mrs. Dorothy Simmons, Mrs. Ruth Gray, all of Denver, Colo., Mrs. Grace Boughtin of Gresham, Ore., and Miss Ona Fitzwater of Boise, Ida., and one grandson.

Elbert G. Brown Dies At Age Of 55

Elbert G. (Jim) Brown, 55, of 4120 Sumner, died Wednesday.

A native of Burlington, Ia., he had been a Lincoln resident since 1906. For the past 38 years, he has been associated with Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Nebraska.

Mr. Brown attended Lincoln High School and the University of Nebraska and was a member of First-Plymouth Congregational Church, the Masons and the Scottish Rite.

Surviving are his wife, Hazel; a son, Elbert G. Jr., at home; and sisters, Miss Vera Brown and Mrs. Harry Pope, both of Lincoln.

Volunteers Aid Total Patient Treatment VA Official Tells State's War Mothers

Volunteers help the Veterans Administration program of "reating the whole patient" in hospitals, Rober Kollman, chief of special services of the Veterans' Hospital said Wednesday night.

Kollman spoke at the 38th annual state conventon of the American War Mothers.

The VA hospitals do not treat for one illness only, Kollman said, but give a complete physical examination and when the patient is discharged "we do not expect him back in the near future."

The VA gives "the best possible care," he said, "and the War Mothers are helping the treatment program through their activities."

"Organizations such as yours are part of the team of getting the vets back into the community," he said.

Also speaking at the meeting were Mrs. Hazel Abel and Frank Short, department commander of the Nebraska Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mrs. Marie Fridirech, national president from Louisville, Ky., was also present at the meeting.

The past presidents will be honored at breakfast Thursday morning and the election of officers will also be held Thursday.

Non-Student 3rd Polio Shots Begin Friday

Free polio shots for non-students who received their first two shots in the three-shot series last winter at the City-County Health Department will be given Friday and Monday at the department, 935 R.

This group includes pre-school and non-school youths and women who received shots last winter as expectant mothers.

Dr. George W. Underwood, department director, said that school children who were ill this week when they were scheduled to receive their third shot may also come in Friday or Monday. The clinic hours will be 1 to 3 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Monday.

Lancaster County school children have been getting their third shots in a six-day program which began last Monday.

City-County Heart Assn. Plan Talked

The Nebraska Heart Association met here Wednesday evening to discuss organizational plans for a Lincoln-Lancaster Heart Association.

John B. Hermann, executive director of the Nebraska Association said, "it has long been felt that the one office in Omaha could not adequately cover the state."

Hermann also stated that if an association were set up in Lincoln it would probably have only a part time executive. The purpose of a unit here would be to create interest in research, education and community service, he added.

Impudent Jozef

WARSAW (AP) — The newspaper Express Wieczorny gave an editorial spanking this week to Jozef Niesiolek of Poznan for international impudence.

It printed a piece from the British Yorkshire Evening Post saying Jozef found a balloon sent out in a race from Southport, Lancashire, and won a fountain pen worth $5.60 (equivalent) but wrote back asking instead for tea, gloves and a car or motorcycle.

The Polish paper added: "His impudence shocked even the phlegmatic British. His appeal can bring forth only the contempt and condemnation of our readers."

Local Group Buys Southern Baptist Church Site Title

The First Southern Baptist Church of Lincoln has bought the title to its church site from the church's Home Mission Board.

The Rev. T. M. Hodgin, pastor of the congregation, said the church now has five acres of land and a home at 3411 So. 14th.

He said a church building is planned sometime in the future, but no definite plans have been made.

Frisco Mayor Confident Of German Unification

BERLIN (INS) — Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco told the Germans Wednesday he hopes they will soon have "complete and total" freedom.

Christopher told an audience in West Berlin that on his next visit to Germany he expects to find Berlin "one city and Germany one country," not split up as they are today.

Christopher was spokesman for 57 prominent American members of the Crusade for Freedom group visiting Germany.

The Silver Lining

Evidently Nebraskans haven't been reading the papers lately. They are too happy about things.

It is enough to make an honest editor utter "faugh" and toss his Russian earth satellite, his Hallowe'en mask of inflation, and his favorite terrorizer, Ezra Taft Benson, into the wastebasket.

It is all a futile business when, right in the middle of bad news the October issue of Business in Nebraska reports that retail sales during August were nearly 11 per cent over the same month a year ago.

The only fields of trade not contributing to the improvement were restaurants, which showed a microscopic loss, and lumber yards. It was to be expected that the latter would feel some of the effects of the planned quenching of the building boom.

Unquestionably Nebraska's recovery can be attributed in substantial part to the breaking of the drought with a growing season that fostered solid production in every field of agriculture.

True, prices and acreage restrictions have worked against the full realization of recovery. But perhaps more important than the fruits of a good crop season is the return of optimism. That is a priceless characteristic that keeps a state on its feet.

In view of the full bins and the well populated ranges and feed lots plus the additional forthcoming harvest of corn and sorghum it is safe to say that Nebraska's August breakthrough indicates a sustained high level of business the balance of the year.

Ethical Practices In County

It was a most interesting proposal made by County Commissioner Del Lienemann for creation of an ethical practices committee to set policy standards for county officials. The interest stems from two things—the subject itself which involves the behavior of public officials and the question it raised as to what Lienemann is driving at.

It is difficult to criticize any move aimed at better government which might be argued as the goal of Lienemann's proposal. However, the raising of the ethical practices subject without more facts can be a dangerous pastime.

There seems to be several things wrong with Lienemann's idea as it has been publicized to date. First of all, there are state laws and court actions which fully cover the field into which Lienmann has jumped.

It is hard to see what can be accomplished by the county's duplicating this law by setting up a book of rules of its own. The county rules would be superseded in any event by existing statutes and court precedence.

Secondly, there is the question of why the County Board chairman should bring the subject up at this time. Raised as it was by Lienemann, there is left to the casual observer the insinuation that things are not quite cricket at the county—that public officials are taking advantage of their office.

Rather than stir something up in a very delicate field, it might be better for Lienemann to make whatever charges he thinks he can support against offending officials and force his case under existing law. Maybe some county officials are doing private business with county suppliers and customers. If that is so and Lienemann knows it, he should state the facts and let the judgment of the public take place.

We are inclined to think Lienemann has made his proposal with sincerity and from good motives but he is likely to create more ill will and misunderstanding than he has thought. If there are abuses at the county, there are already ways of taking care of them. If there are no abuses, then there is nothing left to accomplish in that area. In either event, there seems to be little room for Lienemann's proposal.

We're Missing A Point

The Des Moines Register recently has cause for complaint against its state's high school education. Solid, comfortably wealthy, populous Iowa failed to win one place on the national list of 38 outstanding high schools.

The list was based on schools which placed a minimum of 20 finalists in the National Merit Scholarship contest.

Illinois placed three of its schools, Kansas, one, Missouri, one, and Nebraska, one—Omaha Central high school. Obviously it is a contest in which less than metropolitan high schools are at a disadvantage. The scoring, nevertheless, reflects the educational standards of a state where enviable student achievement is one of its characteristics.

The news of Omaha Central's achievement, which, incidentally, saw that school a winning qualifier two years in a row, this year with 21 finalists, was accompanied by the announcement that more than 3,000 Nebraska high school seniors representing 430 schools will compete for the 300 annual University of Nebraska Regent scholarships. These contestants represent the upper 25 per cent scholastically in their class. Honor for quality of output must go to a state educational program which can skim that much cream every year. It indicates that Nebraska can invest more handsomely in such a going concern.

But the figures, themselves, indicate a lost opportunity. At a time when the nation is crying for educated youth it seems anomalous that there are more than 3,000 available young people and only 300 Regents scholarships. It means that 2,700 well fitted young students will not continue their education—if the scholarship is the make—difference.

The quickest and most effective aid to the trained youth problem seems to be about 2,000 more scholarships of a generous character. The state is finding itself in the position of a farmer who plants 100 acres of wheat and harvests one acre of it.

The Red Mark-Down

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

A good idea of what life must be like inside East Germany is presented along with the Communists' change-over of the currency there. First of all, people in the Red-ruled land were ordered at 9 p.m. to exchange their old marks for the new issue. They were allowed to exchange up to 300 marks with the promise that the remainder of their money could be converted into the new bills a week hence.

★

Now, it appears that those people who had more than 300 marks either will take a complete loss on the excess by not turning it in or face an investigation as to where they obtained the money. It was reported that the Red rulers were suspicious of East Germans hoarding their money because of lack of trust in Communist banks. If 300 marks were a lot of money, there might be some logic in a policy against hoarding where the country's ecenomy is already pinched to an extreme. However, 300 marks represents about $16 at western exchange rates and is about one-third of what a skilled factory worker earns in a month. Evidently, if an East German had saved up more than one-third of what he made in a month, he is to be held suspect by the Reds. There is no telling what the fate would be for such a person if the government decided his savings represented ill-gotten goods. Naturally, many of the people with savings in excess of 300 marks will take a loss rather than declare their funds and face a Communist investigation. The government, of course, will pick up millions in this way.

'Hoarding' On Small Scale

What kind of standard of living must be in existence in East Germany if a man who saves a nest egg equal to more than one-third of his month's pay is considered a miser and held under suspicion by his government? A skilled worker in America could easily be making $498 a month, more than 10 times a similar wage in East Germany. If, over a period of time, this worker saved one-third of this amount, or $166, he might be considered somewhat saving but would be a long way from hoarding his money. And if he saved one-half or two-thirds of every month's pay he might be considered a miser or a little goofy but who would care? Certainly not the government.

★

President Eisenhower evidently didn't like the first reaction of new Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy to Russia's launching of an earth satellite. McElroy stated, in advance of any discussion with the President, that serious consideration was being given to a speed-up of this nation's missile program. However, McElroy has now talked with the President and when asked if the conference covered the possibility of a speed-up in the missile program, McElroy simply walked away from news men. Once again, it seems, the President has chosen to pull a veil of secrecy over White House thinking. Eisenhower has indicated that the American public is at the point on taxes that it is unwilling to spend more on crash missile programs. How in the world is the American public expected to form such an opinion when it has no conception of where we are in the missile program as compared to Russia?

Defense Secretary Briefed By Ike

Perhaps we are being too hasty in an area such as defense where secrecy does have a place. But we would suggest that, by the same token, the White House is being basty if it assumes the American people want no more taxes or want no more money spent on defense, regardless of the consequences. Americans have never been miserly with government on any level when the facts were presented to them and clearly showed a need. After all, the country's defense program at this time is a matter of survival. A few tax dollars look pretty insignificant in comparison.

Right Step

This week the United States put an end to the requirement of finger-printing all foreign visitors. The change was authorized by a modification of the long standing law which received the approval of President Eisenhower last month.

The United States has been under prolonged criticism not only by Russia, but by other nations for demanding something that all others have graciously waived. Finger-printing has been a painful barrier to the improvement of international relations by exchange of visitors. Whoever thought of it had a cloak and dagger mind and it is a good thing that reason finally prevailed in Washington.

Easier access to this country is no guarantee of world peace, but the opposite of it was gaining us nothing. And now we have given Russia one less thing to complain about.

Behind The News

We see there is a county in South Carolina which has bought nine submachine guns for the sheriff and his deputies. This armament is to repulse the Army if it moves in to enforce desegregation. Without bothering to go into detailed inquiry one knows exactly what happened down there. Twenty-five years ago the editor starved to death. Since then no one has read the news. We have a big army nowadays one that doesn't fool around with blue caps, tight coats and tommy guns carried around in violin cases. The tipoff is that this dissident county has a name—Union.

Khrushchev Acts In Hitler's Image

WASHINGTON — While the nation's capital is paying homage to the beautiful queen of our leading western ally, the western world is haunted by certain ominous similarities between Khrushchev's tactics in 1957 and Hitler's tactics in 1937. It was in 1937-38 that Hitler started taking over Austria and large hunks of Czechoslovakia purely by psychological warfare.

He did it by exhibiting the might of the Nazi army, by showing foreign diplomats motion pictures of Germany's military might, and by subversion inside Austria and Czechoslovakia. He didn't have to fire a single shot.

Today, 20 years later, awe of the Russian ICBM, amazement over the sputnik, plus savage warnings from the Kremlin are doing the same thing for Khrushchev.

In the past week, the Arab world, much of it previously pro-West, has started swinging into the Soviet orbit. Here are the swings:

Swing No. 1—President Chamoun of Lebanon, hitherto a stanch friend of the United States and no friend of Syria, now is reported backing Syria and wanting to renounce the Eisenhower Doctrine. This reversal evidenced itself about one week after Khrushchev launched his sputnik and 48 hours after Khrushchev, growling viciously at Turkey, warned that Turkey would not stay alive more than 24 hours in case of war.

Lebanon leaders, listening to Khrushchev, know that if the Red Army once obliterated Turkey it would sweep on down into the Arab world. So they jumped to get on the right side of the fence.

Swing No. 2—Simultaneous with Lebanon's rightabout-face, King Saud made a statement which just about tore up the Eisenhower doctrine. Saud had been wined and dined by Eisenhower, receives his total income from American oil companies, has no reason to love Russia. Yet he lined up with Syria, a country which is becoming almost wholly dependent on the Kremlin.

Swing No. 3—Col. Nasser has recently been making noises about a friendlier Egyptian policy toward the United States. But one week after the launching of Sputnik and 70 hours after Khrushchev unloosed his savage verbal blast against Turkey, Nasser landed troops in Syria to support Syria against Turkey.

All this fits into a pattern—a pattern all too similar to that which Hitler used to terrorize Central Europe shortly before the start of World War II.

IRRESPONSIBLE KHRUSHCHEV

Last month, Allen Dulles, head of Central Intelligence, whose job it is to know what's going on inside Russia, stated publicly that there was ferment inside Russia and that Khrushchev seemed to be in trouble. He expected another political purge.

Other advices I picked up in Europe and the Near East bear this out. Khrushchev not only has the old Kremlin leaders against him, but the bureaucrats. Furthermore, his much-ballyhooed farm program isn't clicking. Reports on crop failures are staggering.

A dictator of Khrushchev's caliber, especially one who drinks 21 martinis before dinner, is capable of doing desperate, dangerous things—if he becomes overconfident, or if he is pushed to the wall.

Russian scientific advances obviously have made Khrushchev cocky. The political situation at home might make him desperate. I don't like to be a pessimist, but where the future of the free world is concerned, it's much better to be ready than late.

Labor Feels Unhurt By Senate Attack

WASHINGTON — In a series of regional meetings at which their local political experts held the floor, AFL-CIO leaders have been trying to discover what the near future holds for labor.

All parts of the country were in substantial agreement on two general conclusions.

One is that the McClellan committee hearings have not stirred up any anti-labor hysteria nor generated pressures for what labor would regard as penalty legislation.

The other is that the public has a vague and rather inarticulate feeling that labor is "too big." The leaders are now preparing to give both reassurance and advice to member unions. They will tell them that no anti-labor legislation is in prospect. They will counsel them to talk gently and hide their big sticks so that public alarm over union power will not grow.

☆ ☆ ☆

It is a truism of politics that vested interests of any kind fare better with an election-year Congress, which next year's will be. All of the House and one-third of the Senate will be up against the problem of campaign expenses in 1958. They will naturally not wish to be stamped as being against any large segment of the voters.

Labor is, of course, alerting its membership to the contest potentially important to its future—Senator William F. Knowland's campaign for the Republican nomination for governor of California. Knowland has said he will sign a "fair and equitable" right-to-work bill if nominated and elected. Unions insist that any such bill would spell the end of unions.

If Knowland should prevail in the primary over Governor Goodwin J. Knight, who has promised to veto such legislation, and then go on to victory over the Democratic nominee, the converts to the Knowland program will bust out all over Congress. Labor would then expect a move for federal right-to-work legislation in the 1959 session.

Labor leaders continue to emphasize that they support the bill for regulation of union pension funds which has been offered by the liberal Democrat from Illinois, Senator Paul H. Douglas.

It is their contention, backed up by several senators, that the pressure to defeat it has come from the insurance companies and the banks which dominate the pension management field. One union spokesman puts the percentage of union pension funds managed by insurance companies and banks at 92 per cent of the whole.

These sources, he explains want to exempt the funds they handle from federal regulation which would make it meaningless. Both Senator Douglas' bill and one offered by Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts cover all union pension funds. This is said to be agreeable both to employers and labor.

Philip Is Story Book Character

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. — What kind of fellow is Philip? Well, the chances are that he will be swooned over by millions of American women. He looks as if he was ordered from Central Casting—tall, thin-waisted, blond, chiseled, manly, cheerful. Nobody has worn a uniform as well as Philip since Gen. MacArthur retired. And nobody ever had more of them.

He is the prototype of the airmen in his uniform as air marshal of the R.A.F., the picture of the British field marshal in that uniform, the epitome of the graceful admiral of her majesty's fleet in that one. He looked just great as a colonel in chief of the Royal Canadian regiment when he rode with his wife in a landau through the sun-streaked streets of Ottawa the day Elizabeth opened Parliament. He looked like a model for "Sports Afield" in his duck-shooting outfit the day he bagged his quota in Canada.

In his speech to the Dominion from Ottawa, on the rights and duties of industry, he lapsed easily into French, but neatly prefaced the switch by saying, "now I'm going to attempt a bit of French." Then followed, with steadfast correctness, "La Conference d'Oxford a termine ses travaux, mais en realite sa fin n'a eta qu'un debut—le debut d'un nouveau stade ou la maniere de penser, les idees et l'influence de la conference penetreront les habitudes et les pratiques de la vie courante." And so forth.

He has known Elizabeth for so long that they appear to have been married since birth.

Philip, a prince of a broken family, never had a last name until shortly before his marriage to the future Queen of England in 1947. He was poor, lived on his navy salary, had been a ward almost since birth of his ambitious and attractive uncle, Lord Louis Mountbatten.

Philip and Elizabeth are related. They share a common great-great-grandmother, Victoria, Elizabeth on the paternal side, Philip on the maternal. The future queen apparently fell in love with him while he was at Dartmouth, the royal naval academy. He was 18, she 13. She was gravely impressed by the way he could jump over tennis nets.

☆ ☆ ☆

Philip's greater age often expresses itself. "I feel so proud of the way she did things today," he said recently after some trying day of ritual and pomp that the Queen weathered. It was like a father expressing pride in a daughter.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Fifth Avenue Too Long And Wide

By HAL HASSELBALCH
Star Staff Writer

MRS. RICHARD DUXBURY AND GUS
. . . "pawtograph" hounds seeking him out . . .

"Offers in any theatre medium considered. Have collars. Will travel."

If this advertisement or something in a similar vein is seen in Variety or Billboard, do not bother to answer unless you are looking for a cute miniature schnauzer named Gus that upstages everybody whenever he gets the chance.

☆ ☆ ☆

Gus, who will be two years old in December, is managed by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Duxbury, 1742 K.

Early in life Gus realized that the best place to start is at the top. At the first opportuniy he chucked his chances of building his populartiy locally and left Biloxi, Miss., for New York City.

Knowing that appearances are everything to a rising star, Gus put up at a swank hotel, immediately incurred the good will of the hotel staff and clientele, put on his most dashing collar and strode confidently into Central Park.

Gus is a native Texan. He possesses all the swagger and bravado Texans are famous for. For these reasons he woefully underestimated his competition.

Up Park Avenue, through the well worn paths of the park, down Fifth Avenue, past the canopied hotels, in front of elegant town houses, everywhere he was virtually ignored. Bigger dogs than he, smaller ones, long-haired and short all vied for the public eye. Sure, Gus has a lot on the ball. Looks, personality, everything.

But one thing he was a little short on was experience. Even had he had more conditioning, he admits now, his chances of being discovered were still poor. You have to have a break or all the looks and talent in the world are no good, Gus is convinced.

So Gus migrated to Nebraska. Now he is hard at work with his watch dog chores as a steady job. He leaps into the spotlight whenever his manager, who is actively engaged in show business herself as Virginia Rawles Duxbury, arranges an appearance for him.

☆ ☆ ☆

Last summer during the final production of "The Merry Widow" at Pinewood Bowl he stole the scene in which Mrs. Duxbury walked on stage, a cape being the only hand prop called for in the script, with Gus strutting in front of her.

Following the performance Gus was mobbed with "pawtograph" seekers!

More recently he has been seen briefly on "Night", a TV production in which Mrs. Duxbury has a leading part. Gus's present aspirations go no further than these bit parts.

At any rate he will have to be content to compete as a versatile amateur. The usual pathways to canine glory are closed to Gus. He is one inch too tall to compete as a specialized, sophisticated "show dog."

"That's because 'ahm from Takes-as," he says.

Schnauzers are noted for their ability as watchdogs. Gus is no exception. He has shouldered the responsibility of announcing every visitor to his apartment building, and an acknowlegment by one of his masters is the only valid pass to the premises as far as Gus is concerned.

Once he is assured you are acceptable, Gus becomes a gracious host. Always immaculately groomed, he rises to his full 16 inches and presents his silver gray head and back for affection before he leaves his managers to be alone with their guests.

Meeting Gus is a pleasure any time of the year, for, as is characteristic of his breed, he has no "doggy" odor and he never loses his hair on your black flannel suit.

In short, Gus is an interesting canine to know, a credit to his species and his breed.

The Inner Man

Anselmo, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Some of us get greatly excited about one thing, and others pay no attention to it but get worried about something else.

I remember a neighbor who was greatly perturbed because a Negro boy was attending our school. He went to other neighbors and to the school board, protesting, but no one else was very concerned. Finally he sent his own children to school again, and no one thought any more about it.

I think we often get excited about the wrong things. Do we worry enough about our boys smoking, drinking and gambling? Russia seems to be getting ahead of us in more ways than one. There they are trying to discourage the use of strong drink.

Could we not build a stronger nation by curtailing the stories and pictures that mislead our young? Should we tolerate anything that is not good for our country and weakens us? The color of the outside of man doesn't matter — it is the color inside.

Hard Work Ahead

Broken Bow, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Politics today are a mess of undercover deception to deceive the minds of men. We must have one newspaper that can and will untangle the gobbledy-gook that is printed. The Star is doing a wonderful job. The editors must be commended.

Here is a true story about a man who paid taxes for two years after being declared a state old age assistance recipient. The third year he went to the courthouse to pay his taxes, had his tax schedule made out, and checkbook in hand. The deputy assessor was ready to sign the schedule when he spotted the "OAA" designation. Then he crossed out the schedule and explained that it was the law that the assistance recipient didn't have to pay taxes any more.

This is just a story preliminary to what transpired years before leading up to 1937 and 1940—the story behind the scene, how social security originated. Many of our citizens have died, ignorant of what happened to them during the years following the declaration of nonentity.

The Democrats have their work cut out for them — to right-about-face, and change the public welfare farce for a more realistic, honest, conscientious law to get the citizens back on an understandable capitalistic economy.

Water Allocation

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Your editorial titled "The Unhappy Basin," issue of The Star for October 15, makes very interesting reading.

The philosophical approach just about puts the finger on the current situation with respect to allocation of water from the main stem reservoirs on the Missouri. As you know, the Co-ordinating Committee on Missouri River Main Stem Operation has been doing a painstaking job in its attempt to serve faithfully all the authorized purposes of the basin program.

These completed projects are indeed proving their worth to the entire basin in controlling floods and conserving water for the public good. Perhaps, as you so well size up the situation, it is only human nature to forget that a few years ago there were no such benefits and to quarrel a bit over who gets the lion's share of the water now controlled.

Failure to serve any of the multiple-purpose functions of the authorized basin river development program would be to short-change the nation's taxpayers whose dollars made the projects possible.

Old Landmark

Inglewood, Calif.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: One of Lancaster County's oldest landmarks appears at the moment to be going to shambles. I am speaking, of course, of the railroad depot at Davey, just north of the State Capitol approximately nine miles.

The State Railway Commission has authorized the Chicago and North Western Railroad to abandon the station in this village and retire station facilities. I seriously wonder if the commission even bothered to take a drive to the depot before making its decision, or if it has ever seen the place. If revealed, the results would probably be startling.

However, for Star readers who have not actually seen the station, it appears as a barn, is old-fashioned, has an old pot-bellied stove, an old worn-out rocking chair, and is reminiscent of olden days. In fact, it is one of Lancaster's oldest landmarks. Yet the officials in the Statehouse are so modernistic in their ways and ideas that they cannot save even an old wooden building of great historic significance for future generations to enjoy.

Now is the time for other Nebraskans to come forward and say a word or two.

If the railroad does not want the responsibility of continuing the depot-agent service, the least it could do would be to place the building under state control as an historical landmark. The people of Davey themselves have offered little opposition to the proposal. They also should speak up. I hope to see Nebraskans getting busy and saving this depot.

Power, Gas Strike Ties Up France; Worse Trouble Threatens

PARIS (AP)—A one-day electric power and gas strike tied France in knots and heaped discomfort upon its disgruntled citizens.

As the lights began coming back on in Paris Wednesday night, still worse trouble was threatened for Thursday—mass street demonstrations by Communists demanding peace in Algeria.

The Communists went ahead with their plans despite an official ban on the demonstrations. The interior ministry alerted all police, security companies and riot squads in fear of street fighting.

The caretaker regime of Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury, holding office the past 16 days while France gropes for a new government, apparently felt powerless to do anything about the strike of more than 100,000 utility workers asking for a 30 per cent wage hike to keep up with the cost of living.

"Anarchy, without government, without law. That, alas, is the sad picture of contemporary France," said the influential newspaper Le Monde.

In Paris and throughout the country, Frenchmen awoke to find themselves without light or gas. Many houses were cold.

There were few trains moving. Subways were silent. Bus queues stretched a block.

Traffic Jams

Every possible bicycle, scooter and car took to the roads but got snarled in traffic jams.

When footsore workers got to their jobs, they found the buildings dark. Machines were silent.

When city workers left to go home, groping their way in dark streets, there was no bread in most bakeries. There was no gas for the ovens. Candles and oil for kerosene lamps were sold out.

The national radio was down to one of its usual three wavelengths. Newspapers had difficulty in publishing. Some failed to appear at all.

Darkened Hospitals

Even some hospitals were without electricity.

At one clinic expectant mothers had to enter a maternity home by crawling through the window because electric lock controls on the doors failed to work. Some apartment house dwellers found themselves shut inside for the same reason.

Slaughter houses produced no meat because they had no hot water to dress the carcasses.

Miners Trapped

Miners were trapped at the bottom of pits in the Nevers area when the cages were blocked.

Many areas had no milk. Electric milking machines were dead.

The railway system, 60 per cent electrified, not only had no power for its trains but no juice for its signals. So even steam-hauled trains were affected.

Some schools, already hit by the strike and fearing worse trouble, decided to close for the rest of the week.

Rare Unity

The strike of 110,000 electric workers and an undisclosed number of gas workers was ordered by Communist, Socialist and Catholic unions in a demonstration of rare unity. They were even joined by utility engineers.

There was some speculation that public disgust over the chaos would play into the hands of Antoine Pinay, a rightwinger named last Friday to attempt to form France's 24th government since the war.

Pinay could be sure of only 180 votes in the 595-member National Assembly. But the Popular Republicans and Radical Socialists (moderates), with a total of 125 votes, agreed to support him—on certain conditions. The 101 Socialists also hinted they would abstain—on certain conditions—on a vote to invest him with office.

Air Force Academy Architect Speaker At Builders Meet

Walter A. Netsch Jr., Chicago architect who helped design the Air Force Academy, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Nebraska Building Chapter of the Associated Contractors of Nebraska. The meeting will be held Friday and Saturday at the Cornhusker.

According to Verner M. Meyers, president of the Nebraska AGC group Netsch will discuss the design of the academy including that of the controversial chapel.

Also addressing the group will be James D. Marshall, executive director of the Associated General Contractors in Washington.

Guests of the Nebraska Building Chapter at the banquet Friday will be Nebraska members of the American Institute of Architects.

Jr. IFC Elects Gary Anderson

The Junior Interfraternity Council, a University of Nebraska student organization, elected Gary Anderson, a Sigma Chi fraternity pledge from Grand Island, as its new president.

Other officers elected include: Chuck Evans, vice president, Phi Delta Theta pledge from Omaha; Tom Piester, secretary, Delta Tau Delta pledge from Minden; Gil Jones, treasurer, Sigma Nu pledge from Lincoln.

Past President Bob Krumme said the Junior IFC represents all the pledge classes of the fraternity system.

Loans, Deposits, Assets Of Lincoln's Banks Up

The third quarter bank call issued by the U.S. Comptroller of Currency and the Federal Reserve board showed Lincoln's banks up slightly in deposits, loans and assets over the same period in 1956.

The call, issued for conditions as of Friday, Oct. 11, showed total deposits of the six Lincoln banks at $154,861,928, compared to $151,192,108 for Sept. 26, 1956 — an increase of about $3.7 million.

In loans, the recent call showed totals of $58,367,133, compared to third quarter 1956 totals of $54,753,944.

Down $1 Million

Deposits showed a $1 million decline from June 6 bank call totals.

Assets of the six banks stood at $169,153,698, about $1 million above the Sept. 1956 totals.

Total deposits in Omaha banks are also up slightly over a year ago, but loans are down a little. A tabulation showed the 10 commercial banks in Omaha had total deposits of $488,080,623 at the close of business Friday — .8 of one per cent above the total for the third quarter of 1956.

Omaha bank loans showed a drop of one per cent from the call date a year ago, totalling $215,209,976.

—Arkansas Guardsmen Still On Duty—

Paratrooper Force Halved

. . . At Little Rock High School

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Army Wednesday cut in half the number of paratroopers stationed here to enforce court-ordered integration at Little Rock Central High School and sent 500 troopers back to their home base by plane and truck.

Eight C-123 troop carrier planes, each carrying about 40 men of the 101st Airborne Division, took off from nearby Little Rock Air force Base for Ft. Campbell, Ky. Other men made the trip in motor vehicles.

Secretary of the Army Wilbur Brucker had ordered the reduction Monday "in recognition of the generally orderly situation."

Seven Negro children attended integrated classes without incident.

No Solution In Sight

There were no new efforts to seek a solution of the six-week-old racial dispute, although Gov. Orval Faubus said that he had been in contact with a "representative" of four Southern governors who tried to effect a compromise between Faubus and President Eisenhower two weeks ago. He said the unidentified "representive" was only checking to see if anything had developed.

The Negro children who have been absent with influenza this week indicated that they plan to return to Central Thursday or Friday.

Brucker has ordered 8,500 Arkansas guardsmen defederalized—with some 1,800 to remain on duty. However, no guardsmen have been released.

Flu Effects Felt

Little Rock Central attendance was at 1,724 with 239 absent. School officials attributed some of the absences to influenza.

A spokesman in the office of Supt. Virgil Blossom said that all but eight of the 65 white students who were suspended for walking out in a protest demonstration against Negroes in the school last week have been reinstated.

St. Paul Farmer Loses 4 Fingers

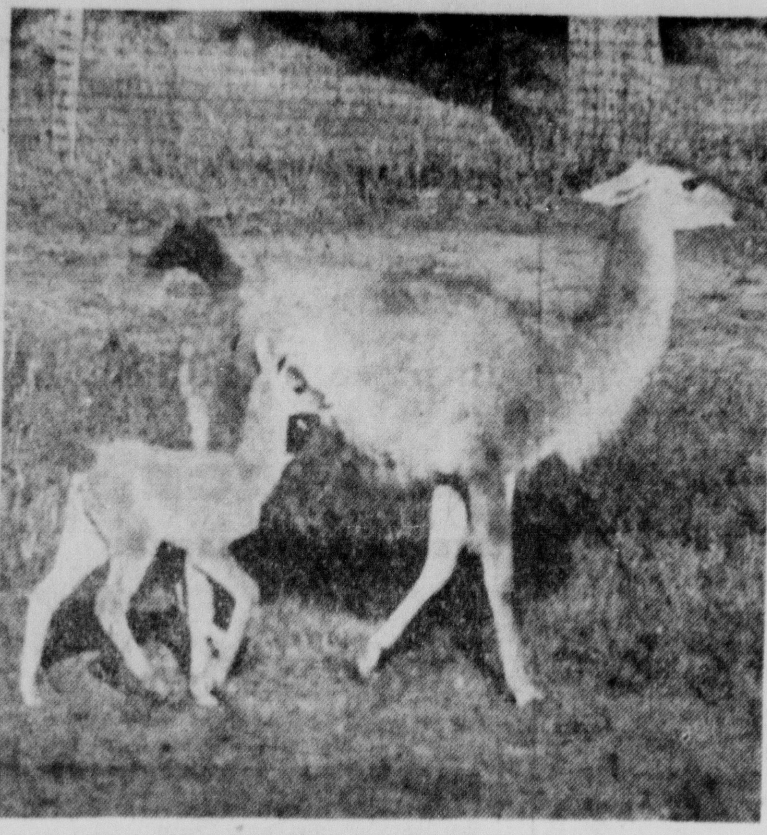
ST. PAUL, Neb. (AP) — Roger Nowak, 27, Wednesday suffered the loss of four fingers from his right hand when his arm became caught in a field cutter on the P. P. Sevcik farm, five miles west of here.

Officials said the cutter belonged to Nowak and that he injured himself while helping the Sevciks cut their milo.

Employes Of City Elect 3 Officers

The Lincoln City Employes Assn. Board Wednesday elected three officers.

They are Bob May, vice president; Agnes Shestak, secretary, and Richard Dickerson, treasurer. Lloyd Bomberger, president, was elected at the annual meeting earlier this year.



Lincoln's Guanaco Family Increases

Pictured is a new arrival at Pioneers Park, a baby guanaco shown here with its mother. Park Supt. James Ager said the third member of Lincoln's guanaco family is still of "undetermined sex—park workers can't get close enough to find out. The baby's father lost his first mate, who was trampled by a buffalo, two years ago, and the new mate was acquired a year ago. Ager said guanacos born in captivity are not unusual but that since they are rather expensive animals "we're sure glad to have another. They make very good trading stock." (Star Photo.)

Rites Friday For Henry H. Osmon

Funeral services for Henry H. Osmon, 89, of 4440 Lewis Ave., will be held at 3 p.m. Friday at Umbergers.

The Rev. Quincy A. Murphree will officiate and burial will be in Lincoln Memorial Park.

Mr. Osman, who died Wednesday, had lived in Lincoln 12 years. Previously he had lived for many years in Fremont, where he was an excavation foreman with the Wagner Construction Co. He was a native of Houghton, N.Y.

Surviving are his wife, Dora; sons, Ray C. Osmon of Lincoln, Ted Osmon of Portland, Ore.; stepsons, Orville, Joseph, Domer and Lloyd Jones, all of Lincoln, and Floyd and Raymond Jones, both of Omaha; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Emery Allen of Lincoln; 23 grandchildren; 53 great-grandchildren; and seven great-great-grandchildren.

News of friends on vacation, marriages, engagements, parties, PTA notes and club meetings makes good reading in the Sunday paper.

Nebraska Has Fewest Job-Seekers In 2 Years

The State Labor Department division of employment security reported Wednesday that fewer Nebraskans were looking for work Oct. 1 than at any other time in the past two years.

The Oct. 1 count showed 7,779 persons registered as actively seeking employment in the state. Of these, 40 per cent were registered in the Omaha office.

The demand for workers, following its usual seasonal pattern, climbed sharply during September.

7,332 Openings

Employers listed 7,332 non-farm openings with employment offices during September, 8 per cent more than in the previous month and 2 per cent more than a year ago.

Employment offices filled 6,350 of the non-farm openings, 800 more than in August.

Most of the increase in non-farm job placements occurred in manufacturing, up 400 for the month.

Construction Up

Placements in construction rose to 1,100. Trade jobs took 1,897 persons and utilities 652.

New registrations [illegible] work reached 3,776, up 10 per cent from August.

Unemployment insurance payments dropped to a low for the year during September. An average of 2,500 persons claimed jobless benefits each week.

Jobless payments from state funds totaled $215,393 in September, $276,712 in August and $231,985 in September last year.

The division noted these labor conditions around the state:

Alliance: Labor demand was brisk with 200 persons placed on non-farm jobs. This is twice the number a year ago.

Beatrice: Employment is at the highest level since September, 1955.

Columbus: An increased demand in manufacturing brought the labor supply to a new low of 169 compared to 400 last year.

Fremont: Brisk labor demand is expected to continue into October. Shortage exists of construction and agricultural workers.

Grand Island: General business conditions are looking up with 343 openings listed. This is 52 above last year.

Hastings: Placements made in September were the largest for the past three years.

Kearney: The final big push for seasonal job completions created the heaviest demand for temporary labor in a five-year period.

Lincoln: The over-all supply of labor in relation to demand continued to tighten. An estimated 57,700 employed.

McCook: A 15 per cent increase in workers available in September.

Nebraska City: Labor demand for non-farm work was better than August or a year ago.

Norfolk: Good crop prospects, favorable weather and improved economic conditions created more demand than a year ago.

North Platte: Improved conditions from standpoint of unemployment exists. Labor supply is 185 compared to 244 a year ago.

Omaha: New applications for work were 12 per cent under last year but total applications on file were 10 per cent over Oct. 1, 1956. Labor demand was 13 per cent lower than August and 24 per cent lower than September, 1956.

Scottsbluff: Demand for non-farm workers increased sharply during September with an 81 per cent increase in job openings over last year.

Sidney: There was a slight drop in labor demand compared to August but a 35 per cent increase over the demand of last year in September.

Supreme Court Plans To Review Triplett Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Supreme Court announced it will review the case of Ernest J. Triplett, 53, convicted of the 1954 kidnap-slaying of a Sioux City, Iowa, boy.

The court granted a review of the case and said it will hear arguments during the present term. No date was set.

The Iowa Supreme Court denied Triplett, an itinerant salesman, a rehearing last January.

Triplett was convicted of the Aug. 31, 1954, kidnap and slaying of Jimmy Bremmer, 8.

In his request for a hearing earlier this year, Triplett contended a tape recording of his alleged confession should not have been admitted as evidence, that he made the confession under undue pressure and that photographs of the boy's body shown to jurors was prejudicial.

Triplett was convicted June 17, 1955, in District Court at Lemars and sentenced to a life term at the state penitentiary

Sorghum Grading School Draws 175

More than 175 elevator operators and sorghum growers attended the Grain Sorghum Grading school on the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture campus.

Need for the school was brought on by the increase in grain sorghums in Nebraska, Donald J. Lehr, secretary of the Nebraska Grain Improvement Association, said.

The group was welcomed to the campus by Dr. Donald G. Hanway, chairman of the Department of Agronomy.

"The Future of Grain Sorghums" was the title of a talk presented by Dr. O. J. Webster, U.S. Department of Agriculture sorghum project leader.

H. C. Van Houten, Omaha Grain Exhcange, and Hugh Stinson, Lincoln Grain Exchange, discussed grading grain sorghum for dockage and moisture.

The three-hour session ended with a panel discussion on air movement, drying, fumigating and behavior of grain sorghums in storage.

Walter Power, 64, Dies At Nehawka

NEHAWKA, Neb. — Funeral services were held here for Walter Power, 64, of Nehawka, who died at his home of a heart attack.

Born in Thayer, Ia., he has been a Missouri Pacific agent for 42 years. He lived at Verdon, Dunbar, Douglas and Auburn before coming to Nehawka 17 years ago. He was a member of the Methodist Church and Masonic Lodge.

Surviving are his wife, Eva; two daughters, Mrs. Janice Sherriff of Inglewood, Calif., and Mrs. Rosemary Owen of Lincoln; a son, James of Jefferson City, Mo.; seven grandchildren, two brothers and a sister.

The October issue of Business in Nebraska reported that retail sales for Nebraska average nearly 11 per cent above last year.

Lincoln shows a gain of 4.6 per cent.

August sales showed a 10.7 per cent increase in the state over a year ago and 2.4 per cent over the previous month. Compared with July, actual dollar sales are up about five per cent; when seasonally adjusted they are up two per cent.

Prepared by the University of Nebraska's department of business research, the Bulletin reported:

Every category of retail sales is up except those for restaurants (down .4 per cent) and lumber yards (down 6.2 per cent).

Implement Sales

Farm implement sales continue much above last year (up 36.1 per cent) and automobile sales show substantial gains (up 14.7 per cent).

The city indexes — consisting of bank debits, building activity, retail sales, electricity and gas consumed, water pumped, postal receipts and newspaper advertising—show a 1.2 per cent gain over last year.

Among the cities showing gains are Alliance, 12.7 per cent; Chadron, 11; Kearney and Nebraska City, both 9.5; Beatrice, 8.4; McCook, 7.4; Holdrege, 5.6; Fremont, 4.1; Omaha, 3.8; Scottsbluff, 2.1; North Platte, 1.2.

Broken Bow remained unchanged.

These cities showed drops in the composite index: Hastings, 3.3; Norfolk, 1.8; Grand Island, .5.

The August index of retail sales only for cities and counties, adjusted for seasonal and price changes:

	Per Cent of August, 1956	Pef Cent of July, 1957
NEBRASKA	110.7	102.4
Omaha	109.6	101.0
Lincoln	106.1	105.0

7,500 MEMBERS IN LINCOLN MARK CREDIT UNION DAY

Thursday marks International Credit Union Day, the 109th anniversary of the founding of the first credit union in Flammersfeld, Germany. There are 7,500 Lincoln credit union members.

In observance of the day a banquet will be held at the Lincoln Hotel Thursday evening. John Eidam, president of the Omaha Bank for Co-operatives and former president of the Credit Union National Assn., will speak.

Ray E. Ramsay, treasurer of the Lincoln City Employes Credit Union, will be toastmaster.

'Low Cost'

Mayor Bennett Martin, proclaiming Credit Union Day in Lincoln, praised credit unions for "providing a means whereby people may pool their savings and assist each other to fill their needs for useful credit at low cost."

Clarence H. Munson, president of the Lincoln chapter of Credit Unions, said the local members are part of 11 million over the world who are marking the observance.

The first state-chartered credit union in Lincoln was organized in 1943 at the State Labor Department. That credit union now has 179 members and $52,000 in assets.

29 In Lincoln

Lincoln has 29 credit unions with assets exceeding $1,750,000.

Munson explained that credit unions are nonprofit organizations formed by small groups of people with a common bond, such as working for the same employer or belonging to the same church, who pool their savings and make personal loans to each other at low cost.

NU Mums Go On Display Sunday

Nearly 187 varieties of chrysanthemums are expected to be in bloom for open house Sunday, Oct. 20, at the University of Nebraska's Horticulture Orchard.

The Orchard at 47th and Holdrege streets here will be open from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Sunday, states Victor J. Miller, chairman of the horticulture department at the College of Agriculture.

Bonn Army Grows

BONN (AP) — About 10,500 youngsters join the West German armed forces this midweek to bring the manpower count to around 118,000. The new ones comprise 6,500 liable to conscription and 4,000 volunteers.

West Germany Said Considering Relations Break With Slavs

BONN, Germany (AP)—West German leaders launched a round of emergency conferences Wednesday and diplomatic sources reported the government probably will break relations with Yugoslavia. This would be a sharp reply to President Tito's recognition of Communist East Germany.

The sources said Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano gave advance warning of the possible West German action at a hastily-called conference earlier in the day with U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce, British Ambassador Sir Christopher Steel and French Charge d'Affaires Francois Puaux.

But the final decision, the sources added, may hinge on the outcome of a special meeting Thursday of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his cabinet.

There are differences in Bonn over how to deal with the Yugoslav action.

Von Brentano is the leader of the group favoring a tough line with Tito. Opposition parties as well as some government supporters preferred a more passive line. They thought a sharp protest and a long wait before filling the vacant post of West German ambassador in Belgrade would be enough.

Those favoring a diplomatic break argued that to do less would encourage other nations to follow the Yugoslav example. They also believed a passive policy would enable Moscow to claim Bonn had accepted the Soviet assertion that there are two existing German states.

Some politicians believed that severing Bonn's ties with Yugoslavia would drive Tito further into the arms of Moscow. But Foreign Office officials say they now regard Tito as being thoroughly committed politically with the Soviet orbit.

In its formal announcement recognizing East Germany, Yugoslavia held close to the Soviet theory that the two Germanys must be united through negotiations between East Berlin and Bonn.

The West says only the big four, as the World War II conquerors of Germany, can decide how reunification can be brought about. The West wants free elections in East and West Germany. It has held to a policy of diplomatic isolation for East Germany.

Adenauer has said he would severe diplomatic ties with any nation outside the Iron Curtain which recognizes East Germany.

Consultations between West Germany's political parties on Yugoslavia start Friday. Parliament President Eugen Gertenmaien said the possibility of splitting relations will be explored.

Drainage Ditch Easement Action Judgment $5,550

A U.S. District Court jury awarded Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mues of Arapahoe a $5,550 judgment in connection with a federal condemnation action for a drainage ditch easement across their Furnas County farm.

The drainage easement involved 6.4 acres of land for which the Mues asked $10,000 damages, including cost of a bridge to be constructed across the ditch.

The government had deposited $883.20 for the easement following its appraisal. The action was tried at Lincoln.

Alaska Highway Suspension Bridge Span Hits River

TAYLOR, B.C. (AP)—The north span of the weakened 2,200-foot Alaska Highway suspension bridge here crashed into the Peace River Wednesday, cutting the 1,500-mile highway at a point 600 miles north of Vancouver, B.C.

No injuries were reported. The Canadian Army had halted most traffic on the highway and diverted some other vehicles to a ferry 10 miles downstream.

An Army engineer at the scene was reported as saying "the center span could go anytime."

The $4,000,000 bridge, biggest of 133 on the highway, had been hauled from Oakland, Calif., by the United States Army when it built the highway in 1942.

First reports of trouble came when a 25,000-ton anchor—the part that secures suspension cables—began shifting.

Sleeping Couple Is Killed As Car Crashes House

CLOVIS, N.M. (AP) — A sleeping couple were crushed to death Wednesday when an automobile, veering out of control, crashed through a wooden wall and into the bedroom of their home.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Felix Paskel Horton, residents of North Clovis.

City police said the car was driven by James Roy Roden, 56, a Clovis druggist. Roden lives across the street from the Hortons and was returning home when the accident occurred, officers said.

Charges of negligent homicide were filed against Roden.

Pinewood Bowl Foundation Is Started

The Pinewood Bowl Foundation of Lincoln, a non-profit organization, filed articles of incorporation Wednesday.

The foundation was formed to aid in the development, management and maintenance of Pinewood Bowl, open air auditorium in Pioneers Park.

Arnott R. Folsom, a member of the board of trustees, said "It is thought in establishing a foundation that people will want to give gifts to Pinewood Bowl. This will help underwrite productions in the Bowl and enable the Bowl to make improvements such as new seating, dressing rooms, sound and lights."

Folsom said the foundation has already received three checks and "it is known that many other persons have written the Pinewood Bowl trust fund into their wills."

Management of the foundation will be in the hands of an 11-member board of trustees, including the mayor and city park superintendent.

Incorporators include Mrs. George P. Abel, Park Superintendent James Ager, George Bastian, Floyd Campbell, Norma Carpenter, Byron Dunn, Arnott Folsom, William Gold II, Mayor Bennett Martin, Mrs. A. Q. Schimmel, Ted Sick and Ernest L. Smith.

"The trust fund will enable thousands more to enjoy entertainment in Pinewood Bowl," Folson said.

Pinewood Bowl is a memorial to the dead of World War II. There is no admission charge and to support presentations "the hat is passed," Folsom explained.

He said he wrote to many cities which have such entertainment facilities and received more than 100 answers, most indicating that the usual means of support was through taxation or a substantial admission charge.

"In comparison, entertainment at the Bowl costs Lincoln people only a few cents," Folsom said.

Activities at Pinewood Bowl include Sunday evening Singfests, Easter sunrise services, high school commencements, variety talent shows, operas and operettas, University Players programs, Boy Scout Indian dances and the Camp Fire Girls Council.

The Lincoln Civic Singfest Committee, headed by Norma Carpenter, has sponsored the events.

NEBRASKANS MAY SEE SPUTNIK SOON

Moon View Studied

Nebraska Wesleyan University physics major James Pearson of Neligh demonstrates correct "moonscope" viewing and charting procedures in getting ready for the Russian satellite.

"Nebraskans may be able to see the Russian earth satellite with the naked eye during the week ahead," Nebraska Wesleyan University physicist Carroll Moore said Wednesday after observers spotted the rocket which, like the satellite, is circling the globe.

Prof. Moore, directing the Wesleyan project for the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, said the rocket was expected to be visible for about four minutes again Thursday morning at 5:36 a.m., traveling from north-northwest to south-southeast.

He said the object could be seen with the naked eye. Prof. Moore said he is quite sure the object was the third stage rocket which gave Sputnik its final shove into space.

Twilight

He said reports indicated that Sputnik possibly may be discernable in the morning twilight beginning Friday, if the weather is clear and the satellite is passing directly overhead.

Two and possibly three objects may be sighted in the sky—the satellite itself, the third stage of the rocket and possibly the nose cone.

"The third stage is reported to be of second magnitude in brightness," Moore said, pointing out that the brightest stars are first order and the faintest stars we see without aid are of sixth magnitude.

Fifth Magnitude

"This means one would see a rather bright streak if the third stage were observed against a dark sky," he said. "The satellite itself is of the fifth magnitude and could also be seen with the unaided eye if it goes overhead just as dawn breaks and the faint stars are still visible."

☆ ☆ ☆

Two intensive rehearsal and briefing sessions have preceded attempts to view the Russian satellite.

"Each observer must be fully familiar with the position of stars in the portion of the sky he will be viewing," Prof. Moore said.

Ten Moonscopes

Wesleyan is operating ten moonscopes, each with an eight degree viewing range, and providing an overall viewing surface of 80 degrees north and south.

"There will be an extensive meteor shower this week too, and the observers must be able to differentiate between meteor (which probably will burn out within the view of the observer), a possible passing airplane (distinguishable by blinking lights) and the actual satellite or one of the attendant objects," he said.

LAFB Squadron Hosts Dental Assn.

The 98th Air Refueling Squadron hosted its sponsors, the Lincoln-Lancaster County Dental Association, at a dinner meeting.

Attending the meeting at the Officers Club were 68 dentists and 25 squadron staff officers and aircraft commanders.

Lt. Col. Jasper Godwin, Air Refueling Commander, and Dr. Ralph Ludwick, program chairman, addressed the group, discussing problems including airman retention.

Also discussed at the meeting were items the association has purchased for the squadrons thus far. These included a radio, ping pong equipment, drapes, a television set, new tables and chairs.

Included among the dentists present at the meeting were Dr. Byron Tullis, president of the dental association and Dr. Fred Davie, a former president who is now acting as liaison officer with the base.

UNITED FUND DRIVE HITS 40% OF GOAL

The United Campaign of the Lincoln Community Chest and Red Cross brought in $71,749 Wednesday, making a grand total of $234,669 or 40 per cent of the goal of $590,581.

A new rivalry between the four divisions of employe givers was introduced. The chairman of the low division went up on a fire department ladder to post the day's results on a score board at Magee's marquee.

The first climber was Lester Rau, chairman of the foods and services division.

Reports of employe divisions were:

Industrial and automotive, Harold Osborn, chairman, $7,686, for a total of $26,489, or 38 per cent of the $68,920 goal.

48 Per Cent

Business and professional, Gene Eaton, $15,688, $33,560 total, 48 per cent of $67,980 goal.

Foods and services, Lester Rau, $2,796, $7,116 total, 23 per cent of $30,930.

Public Departments, Fred Herrington, $3,746, $28,249, 40 per cent of $69,700.

Other Divisions

Phil Assenmacher, chairman of Division A, reported $40,079 for a total of $132,647. The women's division, with Mrs. J. K. Snowden as chairman, reported $1,763 for a total of $6,615.

Three section leaders cited for achieving their quotas were Ralph Beechner, schools; Fritz Dakan, salesbook companies, and Roland Anderson, specialized professional.

Dr. Lloyd Watt, pastor of Christ Methodist Church, gave the invocation at the noon luncheon.

Additional firms whose employes reached or exceeded their goals are: American Red Cross, Belmont Community Center, Better Business Bureau, Dana F. Cole & Company, Credit Bureau of Lincoln, DeBrown Auto Sales, Dr. Anna Franklin, Dr. R. C. Groff Animal Hospital, Heizenrader Grocery & Market and KOLN-TV.

D. A. Lienemann, Lincoln Memorial Park, Lohrberg Company, Miller & Paine, National Mfg. Co., O'Shea-Rogers Motor Co., Port Huron Machinery & Supply Co., Randolph Dairy Store, Bob Ring Auto Sales Company and Sherman Food Store.

Phil Smith's I.G.A., Stop & Shop Grocery, Tabitha Home, Wally's Used Cars and Wells & Frost.

Business Leaders To Hear Dr. Rogers

Dr. Vance D. Rogers, Nebraska Wesleyan University president, will address 40 Lincoln business leaders Thursday at a luncheon terminating the annual student-business convocation.

Chamber of Commerce President Burnham Yates will speak at the convocation. The businessmen will attend classes and talk with students during the morning.

Also planned is a panel discussion of career opportunities in Lincoln and Nebraska.

John Pavich will be moderator. On the panel will be John Campbell, Earl Luff, Jim Ebel and Myron Weil.

High School Seniors To Take Regents Exams

More than 3,000 high school seniors who rank in the upper one-fourth of their classes will take University of Nebraska Regents tests at 430 high schools on Nov. 6.

The tests determine who is to receive the 300 Regents Scholarships worth $100 a year, as well as 62 other grants ranging in value from $60 to $140.

Most other donor scholarships for University freshmen also are based on scores of these tests.

RUSSIA PLANNING TO LAUNCH 95 SATELLITES BEFORE 1959

WASHINGTON (AP)—Word of Russia's plans for launching additional satellites came Wednesday from Rep. Patterson (R-Conn), now en route to the United States after a visit to Moscow.

The Russians, he said in a news letter, plan a second launching "very soon" and expect to hurl aloft 94 other satellites during the international geophysical year, which ends Dec. 31, 1958.

Of the 95, he said, 25 are to be launched in Franz Joseph Land in the Arctic and 70 in the Antarctic.

The second satellite, he said, will carry special storage batteries to send back its scientific recordings by radio. But others now in the blueprint stage, he said, are expected to receive power from the sun and to make telecasts.

Meanwhile the attitude that former Secretary of Defense Wilson had toward satellite research was criticized by a man who served under him.

Dr. Clifford C. Furnas, who served 15 months as assistant secretary of defense for research and development, said Wilson had a "so what" attitude toward the possibility of a Russian satellite. He also said the Defense Department apparently regarded the satellite as a "scientific toy."

Furnas is University of Buffalo chancellor.

From Moscow came word that a leading member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences credited more than 30 Red scientists with a part in launching the Russian satellite.

Alexander V. Topchiev, the academy member, said discoveries of the team made possible "the natural victory of socialism over capitalism" in the race for leadership in science.

Mrs. Brando Insists She's True Indian

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Brown-eyed Anna Kashfi returned Wednesday from a four-day honeymoon with actor Marlon Brando and stuck to her story that she is a full-blooded native of India.

In Cardiff, Wales, William Patrick O'Callaghan, a factory worker, has claimed that she is his daughter, Joan, born in India while he was employed there as a railroad man.

The 23-year-old actress issued this statement through a movie studio spokesman;

"I was born in Calcutta to my Indian parents, Devi Kashfi, a civil engineer and architect, and Selma Ghose on Sept. 30, 1934. We moved to Darjeeling shortly thereafter. I attended St. Helena's Convent in Kursoung, India, until I was 17.

"When I was 16 my mother remarried William Patrick O'Callaghan. I acquired their name and used it as my legal name on my first trip to England in 1952.

Studied English

"I lived for a short time with my mother in Cardiff and studied English at St. Joseph's Convent school. I returned to India briefly and then went back to London.

"Two years ago I came to this country as a non-immigrant visitor on a petition by Loew's Inc. On this petition as on my marriage license my parents are listed as Devi Kashfi and Selma Ghose, both Indian.

"I was advised of my father's death during the last Labor Day weekend. I reiterate, my mother, now married to O'Callaghan, and a British citizen, is Indian."

U.S. immigration records show that Mrs. Brando arrived in the United States Sept. 27, 1955, under the name Joanna O'Callaghan. She listed her birthplace as Calcutta.

Eight-Car Train Runs Over Man; He Escapes Death

CHICAGO (AP) — An eight-car train passed over a 50-year-old man who fell onto the tracks at a downtown subway station Wednesday but he escaped serious injury.

Ernest Suhr of suburban Wheaton, an official of the Chicago Housing Authority, later told police he was running to catch one of the underground trains, lost his balance and fell from the platform.

He landed, unconscious, directly between the two rails.

An oncoming train rolled past and halted over Suhr's body. Firemen extricated Suhr and took him to Henrotin Hospital. Doctors said he suffered bruises and a possible skull fracture.

Harry E. Orput, 64, ClothingSalesman, Funeral Saturday

Funeral services for Harry E. Orput, 64, of 1551 So. 21st, a clothing salesman for Smith Brothers Co., will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday at Roberts Chapel. Edwin E. Meisenholder will conduct the services, and cremation will follow.

Mr. Orput died Sunday in Estes Park, Colo. He was a member of Lincoln Lodge 19, AF & AM, Scottish Rite, Sesostris Temple of the Shrine, the American Legion, Chamber of Commerce, and the Ak-Sar-Ben Men's Apparel Club.

Surviving are his wife, Mildred; son, Harry T., with the U.S. Army in Germany; daughters, Mrs. Marilyn Jones of Minneapolis, Minn., Miss Genie Orput of Denver, Colo.; brother, Raymond of Rockford, Ill.; a sister, Mrs. Claude Smith of Rockford, Ill.; and one granddaughter.

Frank E. Iburg Dies At Age Of 50

Frank E. Iburg, 50, of 1837 E, an employe of the Lincoln Street Department, died Wednesday.

He was a native of Greeley, Neb.

Surviving are his wife, Della E.; sons, Don and Duane, both of Lincoln; and a daughter, Wilma Ann, at home.

U.S. Readies Claim Against GM—Hebert

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La) said Wednesday he had been informed the U.S. comptroller general has formally referred to the Department of Justice for "appropriate action" a government claim for two million dollars against the General Motors Corp.

The claim involves a contract with the Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac division "for a quantity of F84F airplanes."

Hebert, chairman of the Houses Armed Services Committee for Special Investigation, said this contract was the subject of recent extensive hearings by the committee.

In a statement, he said "the comptroller general has informed the Department of Justice that the claim against General Motors is made on grounds of 'misrepresentations' of cost prices to the Air Force, a question of 'recovery for civil fraud' and 'the possibility of criminal liability on the part of the contractor or its employes.'

"The full interest of the government and the taxpayer must and shall be protected. I believe the comptroller general has moved adequately and properly towards that objective in this instance."

In Washington, the Justice Department had no immediate comment on Hebert's statement.

Helena Rubinstein reveals a new beauty treatment from the miracle of birth!

"Tree of Life" goes to source of human life so beauty can be born again

Helena Rubinstein has had the scientific genius to develop TREE OF LIFE CREAM with Placene*—the very source of human life itself!

TREE OF LIFE contains life-supporting ingredients upon which all growth depends. These substances act naturally on the nutritive bed of the skin—the area that holds the key to moisture, tone, wrinkling. They work to restore natural oil and moisture. To tighten slack skin. To smooth and illuminate the surface.

In TREE OF LIFE Helena Rubinstein has achieved the astonishing secret of biological substances which actually help the skin cells to maintain their youthful function!

TREE OF LIFE CREAM and FLUID EMULSION each in 7.50 and 12.50 sizes, plus tax.

NEWS OF THE TOWN

THERE'S a definite foreign flavor in the news this ayem—a few words from Cairo—a few more from Wimpole (England)—and of course, numerous items from the home front.

* * *

OUR NEWS from Cairo, Egypt, has to do with the arrival of a son, Jens Christian, to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Sorenson on Wednesday, Oct. 2. Mrs. Sorenson is the former Mary Barstler of Lincoln, and Jens Christian's father, Chief Information Officer at the American Embassy in Cairo, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sorenson of Lincoln.

And if you might be wondering about the name Jens Christian—we can tell you that the young man is named for his paternal great-grandfather.

* * *

FROM Wimpole, England comes word of the birth of a daughter, Kathleen Marie, to Maj. and Mrs. John W. Hanlen on Monday, Sept. 30. Mrs. Hanlen is the former Jeanne McReynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McReynolds, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hanlen of Aurora, Colo.

Maj. Hanlen and his family are residing in Wimpole Park, England during the Air Force officer's tour of duty there.

* * *

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, is in the society picture this morning too—Mrs. Raymond Gavin, who with her young son Terry arrived several days ago for a visit with Mr. Gavin's mother, Mrs. Ruth Raymond Gavin, is the incentive for a party this evening when Mrs. Donald W. Miller entertains at her home. Mrs. Miller has invited guests for hors d'oeuvres and supper.

* * *

YOU MIGHT be interested in the fact that a group of Scottsdale, Ariz., women—all former Lincoln residents, have organized under the name of Lincolnettes. These young matrons have undertaken a charity project for the Juvenile Home Auxiliary in the Phoenix area, and will sew, mend, and aid the dependent children in numerous ways.

The group met for a coffee recently at the home of Mrs. R. L. Luckey, formerly of Lincoln, and we might add that Mrs. Luckey was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Gladys Lindstrom of Gresham who has been spending the past three months in Scottsdale.

* * *

IT'S "happy 80th birthday" today for Mrs. Martin L. Pedersen, and in celebration of the event Mrs. Pedersen's daughters, Mrs. Steven N. Watkins and Mrs. K. O. Broady—and her daughter-in-law. Mrs. Merritt Pedersen will be hostess at a coffee this morning at the home of Mrs. Merritt Pedersen.

This evening Mrs. Pedersen will be honored at a family dinner for which Dr. and Mrs. Watkins will be host and hostess at their home. Included among the family members attending the party will be Donald Pedersen and Mrs. Patrick Madden, both of Omaha, and both grandchildren of the celebrant; and another grandson, Lt. Norman Watkins, and Mrs. Watkins who are visiting Lt. Watkins' parents. Lt. and Mrs. Watkins are enroute from Houston, Tex., to the officer's new assignment at Sacramento, Calif.

Mrs. Pedersen, who made the trip from Indiana to Nebraska in a covered wagon when her parents moved to Bennet, has resided in Lincoln 54 years.

The Brides' Book Says:

A bride-elect of mid-October is Miss Janice Kalkwarf whose marriage to Merle V. Schaal will be an event of Friday, Oct. 18.

For the ceremony, which will be solemnized at Calvary Lutheran Church, Miss Kalkwarf has named Miss Marilyn Wit as her maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Carollee Ulrich and Miss Carol Henning of Hallam. Lighting the candles will be Dennis Howe and Dennis Sudduth. Miss Deborah Underwood will be the flower girl while the ringbearer will be Thomas Henning.

Serving Mr. Schaal as best man will be William Nordquist of Omaha, and the corps of ushers will include Varro Clarke, Myrlan Carlson, and Frank Shaugnessy.

Mr. Schaal is attending the University of Nebraska where he is a senior in the College of Business Administration.

In pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Beata Iwan, a late October bride-to-be, Mrs. William Follmer will be hostess to eight guests at her home on Thursday, Oct. 17. The guests, who are fellow office workers of the honoree at the University of Nebraska, will present a one-gift shower to Miss Iwan.

The bride-elect, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Iwan of Clarks, has chosen Saturday, Oct. 26, as the date for her marriage to B. Leyon Jorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd F. Jorn of Plattsmouth.

For the wedding, which will take place at St. Bonaventure Church in Columbua, Miss Iwan has named her sister, Miss Le Ann Iwan of Omaha, as her maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Sharon Jorn of Plattsmouth, sister of the bridegroom-elect, and Miss Margaret Noonan of Columbus. Miss Eileen Feehan will be the flower girl, while the ring bearer will be Patrick Feehan. Both are Columbus residents.

William Putnam of Columbus will serve Mr. Jorn as best man, and included among the ushers will be Lewis Zentner of Verdon, Charles Jorn, brother of the bridegroom, and Edward Warner, both of Salem, and Raymon Eickhoff of Omaha.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Kelly returned home last Tuesday from a week's vacation trip to the east coast. The couple visited their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kelly and their son, Micky, in Pittsfield, Mass. and also were guests of relatives in Danbury, Conn.

★

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scoville of Sioux City, Ia., are the parents of a son, James Edward, born on Tuesday, Oct. 15. The young Mr. Scoville has a brother, Tommy, and is the grandson of Mrs. Ralph Scoville of Hartington, and of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dosek of Lincoln. Both Mr. and Mrs. Scoville (Joan Dosek) are graduates of the University of Nebraska where Mr. Scoville is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

★

Arriving in Lincoln on Sunday from Los Angeles, Calif., was Mrs. J. B. Babcock who came for the 62nd wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Babcock, 1007 C, on Tuesday, Oct. 15. Mr. and Mrsr. Babcock, who were married Oct. 15, 1895, at Ohiowa, are charter members of the Ohiowa Order of Eastern Star, of which he was first Worthy Patron and she is a past Worthy Matron.

Guests From Maryland

The welcome mat was dusted off the other day for three guests from Chevy Chase, Md.—Mrs. Marvin Adland, her nine months-old daughter, Beth, and her son, Johnny, who have been spending the past several days as the guests of Mrs. Adland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor E. Friend.

Mrs. Adland, the former Marilyn Friend, and her children will leave this week-end to return to their home.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

Bridge parties, coffees, guests and birthday celebrants are among the news highlights in Eastborough this morning—so, without further ado—

We'll begin with a recent event in the Gordon Culver home—Motoring to the suburb early this month were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brown of Tulsa, Okla., who were on hand to help the Culvers celebrate their 15th wedding anniversary on Thursday, Oct. 3.

An autumn "lawn party" was the event at the Henry Otto home in Beatrice on Sunday when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strong, Cindy and Kevin—residents in Eastborough—were among the guests for the family reunion picnic. Also included among the 26 relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Edwards of Honolulu, Hawaii, who are visiting the Ottos in Beatrice.

Today's birthday girl in the news is Miss Mary Shilling, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Don Shilling, who was complimented on Sunday afternoon in celebration of her fifth anniversary. Mary's guests for the festive event included Linda Schneck, Michelle Francis, Margaret Skappel, Nancy Skappel, Mary Pat Robinson, Ricky Brinkman, Billy Verner and Joan Faltemeier. Assisting Mrs. M. Skappel with the party games and refreshments was Mary's sister, Donna.

Bridge is next in line as we continue our verbal trek through Eastborough. Mrs. Robert Longman will entertain at a dessert luncheon on Tuesday evening and included in the eightsome, in addition to the hostess, will be Mrs. Joe Ritter, Mrs. Merle Hahn, Mrs. Jack Robson, Mrs. Bob Bridges, Mrs. Ed Marty, Mrs. Bob Hartsock and Mrs. Harry Rust.

Visiting in Eastborough last week end were Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McIntosh of Scottsbluff who were guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Riblett.

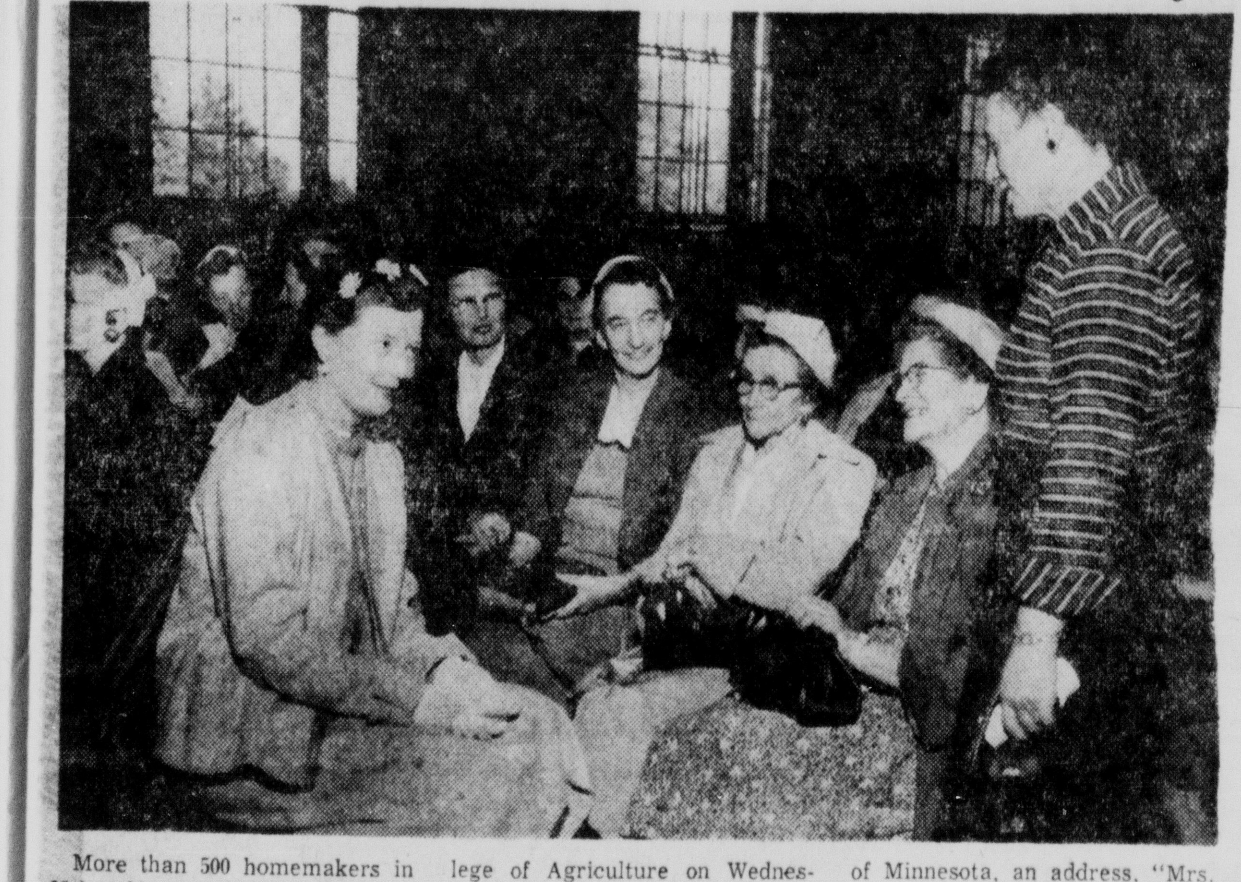
It was on Wednesday evening when Mrs. Glen Manske and Mrs. Delos Moulton were co-hostesses at the Manske home to compliment Mrs. William Hartline, Mrs. Foster Owen and Mrs. Robert King at a neighborhood "get-acquainted" coffee. Other guests were Mrs. Marvin Kelle, Mrs. Arthur Whisennand, Mrs. Darrell Otto, Mrs. David Withrow and Mrs. Ted Riblett.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartline, who formerly resided at 1935 South Cotner, settled in the Eastborough suburb in late summer. Mr. Hartline is attending the College of Engineering at the University of Nebraska.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Owen also arrived in the suburb in late summer from heir former home at 3501 Apple treet. The Owens have two chilen, Ricky and Sherri.

Introductions are in store this yem for a new member to the astborough bassinet club. Makng her appearance on Monday, Oct. 7, at St. Elizabeth Hospial was Miss Pamela Gay Meharg, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. William Meharg, who have another daughter, Linda Karen. Pamela's grandparents are Mrs. Ellen H. Meharg and Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Peel, all of Lakeland, Fla.

Attend NU Home Economics Day



More than 500 homemakers in Nebraska attended the sixth annual Home Economics Day at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture on Wednesday. The full day's program of activities included a talk by Dr. Josef Brozek of the University of Minnesota, an address, "Mrs. Homemaker, USA", by State Senator Kathleen A. Foote of Axtell, and a panel, "Talking Turkey", moderated by Miss Florence J. Atwood of the home economics faculty.

Mrs. John R. Biegert of Shickley, state president of the Home Economics Association of Homemakers, presided at the meeting, and the group was welcomed by Dr. Florence McKinney, chairman of the department of home economics, and by Dean W. V. Lambert of the College of Agriculture.

Bridge Club

The newly-organized LAFB Duplicate Bridge Club held its first regular meeting last Thursday evening at the Officers Club. Open to all officer personnel at the air base and to civilians by invitations, the chartered club has as directors Jim Gordon and Alan Kasdan.

Meeting at 7:30 o'clock every Thursday evening at the Officers Club, the group will award a full Master Point on the third Thursday of each month.

Mrs. Vernon Todd and Mrs. Helen Lambauth were winners last week, and tying for second place were the following teams: Mrs. Donald Greene, Mrs. Thomas Morgan; Mrs. Pierre Tisdale, Mrs. John Brown, III; and Mrs. James Dwyer and Paul Galter.

Turkey Answers Syria With Counter-Charge

. . . Of Cover-Up For Soviet Move-In

ANKARA (AP)—Turkey has sent Syria a note reported to contain a counter-charge that the Syrians are raising a diversionary clamor to cover up a Soviet move-in on the Middle East.

The note was sent Wednesday as Secretary of State Dulles in Washington warned that Soviet aggression against Turkey could bring U.S. action.

Turkish official circles were warm in praise of Dulles' statement that the United States must be on guard against a possibility of Soviet aggression.

Investigation Welcomed

One official called the Syrian demand for a U.N. investigation of alleged Turkish threats to peace "simply another sham." Officials indicated they would welcome a U.N. investigation.

The new note to Syria was known to reject completely a Syrian charge that Turkey is planning aggression, that the Turkish army or air force was involved in an attack along the Syrian frontier last week or that Turkey is interfering with Syrian internal affairs.

The note, Ankara sources disclosed, says the Syrian complaint of border clashes may concern customs or security guards of both countries and in that case there is normal procedure to follow.

The sources said the note declares Turkey believes the Syrian charges are related to a recent Soviet demarche (change in plan or procedure)—"and give the impression they are undertaken to cover Soviet action."

No Alarm

There has been no trace of alarm over the situation but government officials have believed a strong American statement might do much to fend off possible trouble. The Dulles statement seemed to have filled the bill for the present.

Political sources who first said about 5,000 Egyptians might be involved, now estimate that no more than 500 to 1,000 are in Syria.

The government was studying the move from two angles:

1. That the Egyptians are there to reinforce the Syrian government itself from some feared subversive attempt.

2. That the troops arrived to help Syria in some agression.

Political sources said they were inclined to believe the former theory.

MIDEAST AT-A-GLANCE

By the Associated Press

UNITED NATIONS—The Soviet Union accused the United States and Turkey of planning a surprise attack on Syria and offered troops for any U.N. force to meet it. The Soviet statement came after Syria asked for an emergency U.N. Assembly meeting to investigate charges of an imminent attack by Turkey.

AMMAN—Jordan announced full support to Syria in the event of an attack and King Hussein called in the Turkish, American and British ambassadors to tell them. He talked later with Arab envoys.

LONDON—British officials professed to see no danger of immediate war and said their units in the Middle East have had no alerts. The British said they have evidence that the Soviet Union, Egypt and Syria are acting in collusion to steam up war fears in order to end Western influence.

Moscow Radio in a broadcast heard in London told Arabs that "American imperialists" have designs on Syria and that unless the world stops them there is danger of world war.

British and European Socialists cold-shouldered Soviet Khrushchev's plea to bolster the Soviet anti-eWst campaign in the Middle East.

CAIRO—Egypt's Middle East news agency reported a state of emergency declared in the Syrian army. The newly merged Egyptian and Syrian field forces in Syria have Soviet weapons. In Beirut, a spokesman for Arabia's King Saud said he approved the Egyptian reinforcement move and denied Saud had not been informed beforehand.

DAMASCUS—Syrian radio and press were filled with new charges of Turkish border concentrations. They also hailed the Soviet Union for preparing world public opinion for Soviet intervention if Turkey attacks.

Boards Given 10 Days For Filing Briefs

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP) — District Judge William F. Spikes Wednesday allowed attorneys for both sides in a mandamus action involving the Board of Education 10 days to file briefs.

The case involves the Hall County Board of Equalization adopting a Grand Island school board budget, then meeting later to change its action.

Harold Prince, attorney for the school board, contended the board of equalization was a "dead duck" after it adjourned sine die Aug. 21 following adoption of a school board budget and setting the levy at 29.33 mills.

He said the Board of Equalization power does not go beyond that of approving the budget. It is not authorized to act as a high court with judicial powers, he said.

Transfer 'Illegal'

Gerald Buechler, attorney for the county board, defended the action taken by the supervisors and said the transfer of $150,000 from the general fund into the building fund was an illegal act.

Buechler said the school board attorney was not being consistent when he argued that deadline for the board to act on budgets was Aug. 10, then to uphold the action the board took in approving the budget on Aug. 21, and later claiming the action it took on Sept. 3 reducing the budget from 28.33 mills to 25.72 mills was illegal.

He said that if the action on Aug. 21 was legal, then the action on Sept. 3 was also legal.

James Anderson, Union Pacific railroad attorney sitting in as a friend of the court, declared that to transfer the funds was illegal.

The only way money could be raised for this purpose, he said, was by the issuance of bonds or by a special mill levy.

Anderson said neither course was followed, contending the county board acted properly when it took this action. He added that if taxpayers had to take action instead of the county board, there would be a multiplicity of suits, indicating the railroad would undoubtedly take such action if the present ruling was unfavorable.

School Janitors Get $100 Yearly Pay Hike

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP) — The board of education has voted a $100 per year increase in the salaries of school janitors here. The blanket raise was voted after the board studied figures of janitor salaries in other school systems. The Holdrege salary range is now $2,400 to $3,300.

NU Works On Defense

Visiting Syracuse May Be Slowed As Flu Bug Strikes Lineman

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Nebraska coach Bill Jennings took what able men he had Wednesday and spent part of the practice on limited contact drills with an emphasis on defense.

Syracuse, which visits Lincoln Saturday as part of the Band Day festival, is still unbeaten after three outings and the Orangemen have a formidable offense.

A 7-7 tie with surprising Iowa State mars the Syracuse record, but the New Yorkers ran up almost 300 yards against the Cyclones. Fumbles near the goal line kept the Orangemen from winning their opener.

Since then Syracuse has whipped Boston 27-20, gaining 273 yards, and whacked Cornell, 34-0, gaining a whopping total of 425 yards.

The Eastern power's passing attack is nothing to sneeze at either, a fact which is causing no little concern in the Nebraska camp.

Syracuse has averaged about 12 passes per game and has averaged about eight completions per contest. This is a strong indication that the Orangemen have a well-balanced attack — strong, fast runners and accurate passing.

Put this setup behind a king-sized line and you get the picture of what Jennings means when he muses: "Out defense is all important this week. We've got to stop Syracuse's offense if we hope to stay in the game."

However, Syracuse may be slowed by the flu bug, which has hit the center of the line.

Center Mike Bill and tackle Chuck Strid are among seven Orange footballers out with respiratory illnesses Wednesday. Both are members of Syracuse's first team.

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder, who missed his first practice in nine years Monday, and assistant Bill Bell recently recovered from a flu attack.

Center — Dick McCashland and LeRoy Zentic.

Right guards — Art Klein and Dick Kleiber.

Right halfbacks — Gene Sandage and Larry Nayiaux.

Fullbacks — Jerry Brown and Gene Haman.

Jennings said it was hoped that end Bill Hawkins, tackle Don Olson, guard Don Kampe and fullback George Cifra will be able to move into the two-deep picture by Saturday.

All are currently nursing injuries, along with nine other Huskers, including first team quarterback Harry Tolly.

The loss of Olson would be keenly felt against Syracuse. The Grand Island hustler is getting a barrel full of experience in his sophomore year and he's been turning in a fine job.

He played 55 minutes against Kansas State and Pittsburgh, 43 minutes against Army and about half the Washington State game.

Both Olson and Rhoda — who logged 53 minutes against Pitt—came in for praise from Jennings Wednesday.

"They're really hanging in there well for use," Bill said. "But it's tough for them to play so long. It would be okay if they played all that time against the same opponent, but teams like Pitt and Army threw three different guys at them.

"That makes it awfully rough for the boy who is going all the way."

York To Operate As Non-Profit Team

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Tom Richardson, president of the Class A Eastern League, said Wednesday York, Pa., will rejoin the baseball league as a non-profit corporation.

'The franchise will be worked by the York Area Baseball Corp., which will be a non-profit group headed by local sportsmen," Richardson declared at league headquarters here.

"The purpose of the organization is to bring baseball back to York, which baseball men count as one of the best baseball towns in the country," Richardson declared.

Hank Greenberg Booted As GM Of Tribe Team

Greenberg keeps smiling . . . after being fired by Tribe board Chairman W. R. Daley (right).

No Successor As Yet Named

CLEVELAND (AP) — Hank Greenberg, a member of Baseball Hall of Fame, Wednesday was fired as general manager of the Cleveland Indians, a position he has held for eight seasons.

No indication was given as to the successor of the one time slugging first baseman and outfielder of the Detroit Tigers and Pittsburgh Pirates.

Announcement that Greenberg's contract would not be renewed was made by William R. Daley, chairman of the board of directors, at a news conference following a meeting of the directors of which Greenberg is a member.

Explaining the board's action, Daley said, "It was generally felt that we had to make a change at this time. The attendance has been declining, but no one can say whose fault it is."

Pressed for elaboration, Daley said the board's feeling resulted from criticism of Greenberg in the newspapers and bitter complaints against the general manager by the baseball fans, who have blamed him for everything from not being able to get a good seat at the stadium to failure to televise more games.

Myron H. Wilson, club president, told newsmen fan reaction against the former home run slugger was the major factor in Greenberg's dismissal. "All the fans seem to be complaining about Greenberg, but no one will tell us what they think is the matter with him," Wilson said.

Visibly moved by the turn of events, Greenberg told newsmen in a statement he was "keenly disappointed that the board of directors chose to terminate my contract."

"I am proud of my record in Cleveland during the past 10 years," he said. "I have gained many honors in baseball, but feel that my work in Cleveland is one of my greatest achievements."

He pointed out that during his tenure as general manager, which began in 1950, the Indians finished no lower than second until this year, and won the American League pennant in 1954. The sixth place finish this year was their lowest since 1946.

Greenberg, 46, who is one of the club's 13 directors, explained that he abstained from voting Wednesday. He acquired control of an estimated 20 per cent of the club stock in February 1956. He said that he would retain his stock and his place on the board of directors declaring, "Cleveland is a baseball town."

He said he would continue to maintain an interest in the club and wants to keep his home here.

Talk of moving the Cleveland franchise is "utterly ridiculous," Greenberg added.

Ted, Mays Top Sluggers

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox won his ninth American League slugging championship and Willie Mays of the New York Giants his third National League title in 1957. Williams' .731 average was the highest for the majors in 16 years.

Williams collected 307 bases in 420 times at bat, figures compiled by The Associated Press disclosed today. Among the 39-year-old outfielder's 163 hits were 28 doubles, 1 triple and 38 homers.

Ted, who also won his circuit's batting crown, had the previous high slugging percentage—.735 in 1941. The big league record is .847 set by Babe Ruth in 1920. Williams also finished on top in the slugging competition in 1942, 1946, 1947, 1948, 1949, 1952 and 1954.

Mays slugged .626, edging Stan Musial of St. Louis and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee. The Giants' centerfielder had 366 total bases in 585 trips. His extra base output included 26 doubles, 20 triples and 35 homers.

Musial wound up with a .612 percentage on 307 total bases in 502 at bats while Aaron was third at .600 with the most total bases in either league, 369, in 615 official trips. Aaron had 198 hits and 77 were for extra bases—27 doubles, six triples and 44 circuit blows.

Slugging averages are computed by adding the total bases on all hits (one for a single, two for a double, etc.) and dividing the aggregate by the number of official times at bat.

Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees, the American League slugging champ in 1955 and 1956, was second this time with a .665 mark. He had 28 two-baggers, six triples and 34 homers among 173 safeties.

Roy Sievers of Washington, the AL's home run leader with 42, was third in slugging with a .579 average. In addition to his homers, the hard-hitting outfielder collected 23 doubles and five three-baggers.

Sievers was followed by Gene Woodling of Cleveland with .522, Vic Wertz, also of the Indians, with .485 and Charley Maxwell of Detroit with .482.

Brooklyn's Duke Snider, last year's National League titleholder finished right behind the 1957 big three with a .587 mark. Then came Ernie Banks of Chicago, .579, Ed Mathews of Milwaukee, .540 and Frank Robinson of Cincinnati, .527.

Only three other Red Sox' players besides Williams won the AL title. They were Ruth in 1918 and 1919, Jimmy Fox in 1938 and 1939 and Bobby Doerr in 1944.

Mays has even less company. Mel Ott in 1936 and John Mize in 1942 were New York's only other NL champs. Mays' other victories were in 1954 and 1955.

Ask N.C. State To Leave Negroes

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP)—President R. F. Poole of Clemson College said Wednesday he has suggested to North Carolina State College officials that any Negro members of athletic teams not be sent here to take part in competition between the two schools.

Poole cited South Carolina's segregation laws as the reason for his suggestion. He said he does not know of any scheduled events in which State might have Negro student competitors.

However, the matter came into the public eye when a Negro band member, here with N.C. State for the school's football game with Clemson Oct. 5, ate in the Clemson College dining room.

N.C. State and the University of North Carolina have a handful of Negro students. The first of them were admitted as graduate students, but there are a few undergraduates now.

A petition with more than 1,000 names on it now is being circulated, directed to Gov. Timmerman, asking him to investigate and to see that there is no similar incident at the Nov. 23 N.C. State-South Carolina game at Columbia.

Both Clemson and South Carolina are state supported colleges, as is N.C. State.

Tigers Buy McManus

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers have purchased the contract of first baseman Jim McManus from their Birmingham farm club in the Southern Assn.

The 22-year-old lefthanded hitter batted .261 with the Barons last season and his hits included 24 doubles, 8 triples and 17 home rus. He had 60 runs batted in.

Moore To Box Omahan

VANCOUVER (AP) — Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore has signed to meet Bobby Mitchell of Omaha, Neb., in a non-title bout here Oct. 31, Promoter Earle Kalani announced Wednesday.

FLU BUG HITS NEXT WESLEYAN OPPONENT

Special to the Star

PERU — The flu bug has invaded the Peru State football squad this week, according to a rather pessimistic Al Wheeler.

Tuesday the head coach counted six players who may miss Friday night's clash with the Nebraska Wesleyan Plainsmen at Lincoln. Wheeler remarked that he's keeping his fingers crossed for fear that others may be missing from action.

Friday's game will be the 31st meeting of the schools since 1909. Since that time the Plainsmen have won 13, the Peruvians 14 and there have been three ties. Last Plainsman victory was a 12-0 win in 1948.

Last Saturday saw the first N.C.C. defeat for Wesleyan this season, when they fell before the Hastings Broncos 26-0. The Bobcats only N.C.C. defeat was in their home opener against defending champs, the Kearney Antelopes.

Wheeler indicated that the Plainsmen have shown decided improvement since their initial N.C.C. game when they handed the Chadron Eagles a 13-6 loss.

In their other conference game, Wesleyan edged Wayne 7-6. Against common opponents — Wayne and Chadron — the Bobcat scores were more convincing than those of the Plainsmen. Against Chadron, the Bobcats rolled up 32 to the Eagles' 13, and in the last Saturday's Homecoming classic, the Bobcats routed Wayne 34-0.

Despite what may seem to be an advantage so far as past 1957 records are concerned, Wheeler reminded that the Wesleyan backfield is speedy and their line outweighs the Peruvians.

Pirates Purchase Bill Bell

Lincoln Star Special

PITTSBURGH—The Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday announced the purchase of righthanded pitcher Bill Bell from Lincoln in the Class A Western League.

Bell

Bell had an 11-4 record with the 1957 pennant-winning Lincoln Chiefs.

It will be the second tour with the Pirates for Bell. He was called up by Pittsburgh in his rookie year after pitching three no-hitters in a Class D league.

Following his brief stay with the Pirates he spent two years in the Army, and was sent to Lincoln for the 1955 season. After a brilliant start Bell faded and spent 1956 with a Class B loop.

He developed into a first-line pitcher for the '57 Chiefs, and was one of the top strikeout artists in the Western League.

Bell will find plenty of ex-Lincoln teammates on the Bucs' squad, including Don Williams (1956-57), Jack Lamabe ('57), Bennie Daniels ('56), George Witt ('55), Dick Stuart ('56-57) and Howie Goss ('56).

Held Due For Action

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Walter Held, 47, German jockey who fractured his collarbone in a spill 10 days ago, will be recovered sufficiently to ride Baron Henry Thyssen's Nisos in the $100,000 Washington International at Laurel on Nov. 11.

Baker Signs Bout

PITTSBURGH (AP) — William Bettors, manager of Pittsburgh heavyweight Bob Baker, said Wednesday that Baker will meet Neal Welsh of Miami, Fla., in a 10-round feature at the Miami Beach Auditorium the night of Oct. 29.

Syracuse U. and Boston U. began their football series in 1923.

Pre-GameTVShow Cost Braves Money

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball Secretary Charles Segar Wednesday put his finger on the $83,000 received for a pre-game World Series television show in 1955 as the reason for the difference in the winning shares of this year's Milwaukee Braves and the '55 Brooklyn Dodgers.

"The $83,000 also went into the players pool," explained Segar. "We did not have a pre-game show this year and that is why the Braves' full shares were less than the Dodgers."

The figures announced Tuesday by Commissioner Ford Frick disclosed that $709,027.55 went into the players' pool in 1957. In 1955, the total hit $737,853.59 and this included the pre-game TV monies.

This accounted for the difference of more than $800 per winning Series share—$9,768.21 for Brooklyn players and $8,924.36 for the Braves.

SMU Asks Shift

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist disclosed Wednesday it is negotiating with Notre Dame to play next year's game in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas to kick off the huge state fair of Texas.

Matty Bell, SMU athletic director, said, "You can say it is a possibility the game site may be changed."

The game now is scheduled for South Bend, Ind. This year's contest will be in the Cotton Bowl Dec. 7.

Three Juniors To Lead NWU

Coach Kieth Skogman today named three Nebraska Wesleyan University juniors to captain his Plainsmen against Peru State here Friday night.

Tompkins

They are Giff Tompkins, Omaha guard; Larry Cook, Chester fullback and Chuck Evans, Seward halfback.

The Plainsmen will go against the potent Bobcats seeking their third conference victory against a single loss. The Bobcats too have a two-one conference record but are fielding one of the strong Nebraska Conference teams.

Skogman said the flu bug has been a real factor in Wesleyan drills this week, but barring unexpected developments, his veteran starting eleven should be intact Friday.

Giants Hire Rigney Again

Only 2 Players Sure Of Jobs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The New York Giants gave Bill Rigney a two-year contract Wednesday and the enthusiastic manager said he's willing to trade all but two of his players to bring a better club to San Francisco.

Rigney said the two "untouchables" are centerfielder Willie Mays and pitcher Johnny Antonelli.

President Horace Stoneham refused to disclose terms of the new contract. He said both he and Rigney were satisfied.

Rigney, 39, managed the Giants the past two seasons and finished sixth both years. He played as an infielder for the team for nine years.

The bespectacled manager, who lives across San Francisco Bay in Walnut Creek, said the Giants "feel great about coming to San Francisco."

Mays, whom Rigney called the best player in baseball, is "tickled to death" with the move and may make his home here.

The manager said Mays should hit better in Seals Stadium, where the press conference announcing his new contract was held, than in the Polo Grounds—mainly because of the difference in centerfield: 483 feet in the old park, 410 in the new.

The manager called Antonelli the best lefthander in the National League.

Several new prospects are due for a tryout, including Felipe Alou, an outfielder from Springfield, Mass. Rigney called him the next best outfielder in the Giant organization. Alou hit .330 for the Springfield Eastern League club.

Bob Schmidt, a catcher, and Orlando Cepeda, a first baseman, both from Minneapolis, also will get a tryout when the Giants go into spring training at Phoenix, Ariz., Rigney said.

Iowa U Defense Is Best In Nation

By The Associated Press

Iowa's immovable linemen tossed back Indiana for a net loss of 30 yards rushing last Saturday and achieved two positive results while other teams were backing into the lead in NCAA defense statistics.

Iowa achieved the best three-game record for defense against rushing in 11 seasons and became the first team since 1950 to hold two rivals to minus yardage in one season. San Francisco, no longer a football power, did it in 1950.

In three games, Iowa has yield- a net of just 74 yards or an average of 24.7 a game. Washington State actually accounted for more than that total, but Utah State wound up with a net of minus six yards and Indiana minus 30. It averages out to a gain of three quarters of a yard a running play against the Hawkeyes.

Emphasizing Iowa's defensive strength is the fact that Arizona State, second on this week's rushing defense table, compiled by the NCAA Service Bureau, has yielded 349 yards of 87.3 a game, and Auburn, the total defense leader, has given up 94 yards a game on the ground.

Otherwise it was defensive lapses rather than defensive strength that marked the major college performances.

Auburn backed into the total defense lead although it yielded more yards to Kentucky than to either of two earlier opponents. And Georgia Tech became the leader in pass defense although Louisana State completed as many passes against the Engineers as Kentucky and Southern Methodist together and gained about as many air yards as those two teams.

Princeton, leader a week ago in both total defense and rushing defense, dropped to third and eighth in those two tables after being pushed around for 284 yards by Penn. Mississippi State, previous pass defense leader, gave up 125 yards to Arkansas State passes and dropped out of the first ten in the tabulation.

The top figures now show Auburn has held its combined opposition to an average of 160.3 yards a game, edging out Navy, which has yielded 160.8 yards for four games. Georgia Tech has allowed only eight enemy pass completions in three games for 87 yards total or 29.0 yards a game. Runner-up Virginia has allowed 35.0 yards a game by passes. Only 18 passes have been attempted against Tech.

Three teams with previously clean slates were scored on for the first time last week—Michigan State, Notre Dame and Georgia Tech. That left Dartmouth as the only major team whose goal line hasn't been crossed. A Penn field goal is the only score against Dartmouth.

Utah State is the new team punting leader with an average distance of 42.5 yards on 13 kicks. Colorado State and North Carolina State have been most successful at running back kicks. Colorado State has averaged 24.6 yards returning five punts.

Pitt Picked To Beat Army; Cougars Liked Over Oregon

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—The redhead who usually does the picking in this corner blew a couple of big ones last week, tossed his crystal ball over the goalpost, and took off on the first plane for Tokyo.

"You explain to the subway alumni why I picked Army over Notre Dame," said harried Will Grimsley before departing for the Orient. "And let's see what you can do with Army and Pitt, wise guy."

So, without further ado, away we go:

Pittsburgh 20 Army 14: Pitt's depth too much for Army's great first team in the clash of the East's two top teams at West Point.

Iowa 21 Wisconsin 7: Two all-winning Big Ten powers mix it up. This one is at Iowa and the Badgers, who have won three, usually find it tought to make it four in a row.

Holy Cross 13 Dartmouth 7: Another battle of unbeaten team with the hometown field the difference.

Michigan State 27 Purdue 7: Poor Purdue! Notre Dame, Minnesota, Wisconsin and now the loaded Spartans, top team in the country. Kowalczyk & Co. keep rolling for 4-0 for State and 0-4 for Purdue.

George Tech 13 Auburn 0; The Engineers rebound from the upset by LSU to pin down the unbeaten Tigers.

Washington State 14 Oregon 7: Washington State smells the roses. A victory over Oregon will move the Cougars on the threshold of Pasadena.

Oklahoma 41 Kansas 0: The Powerful Sooners, now ranked second behind Michigan State, take it out on the twice-beaten. once-tied Jayhawks.

Texas A & M 20 Texas Christian 14: This league would have been tough even for Houdini.

Arkansas 20 Texas 7: The all-winning Razorbacks are twice as tough on the home field.

Minnesota 21 Illinois 14: They play at Illinois and this could be the spot for an upset. We'll stick with the form.

Duke 34 Wake Forest 7: Speedy Wray Carlton should roll up the yardage against the non-winning Deacons.

Colts Setting Pace In Pro Grid League

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The undefeated Baltimore Colts, No. 1 in the National Football League's Western Conference led the 11 other clubs in total yards gained, most points scored, best passing average and top defense against rushing.

With the NFL season three games old, official statistics showed today Baltimore has rolled up 1,100 yards with 571 gained in rushing plays. Not too far behind is San Francisco with 1,016—513 rushing—Washington 1,015 — 453 rushing—and New York 925—514 rushing.

The Colts lead the league in rushing and are second in passing yardage. Behind Baltimore in ground gaining are Los Angeles 539, New York, San Francisco, Washington and Chicago Cards, the latter two tied at 453.

The Redskins lead the NFL in passing yardage, having piled up 562 through the air. Baltimore is second with 529 followed by San Francisco 503 and Pittsburgh 480.

With mastery in ground-gaining, Baltimore stands out in pass completions, having connected successfully on 40 out of 69 attempts for a 58 per cent average. San Francisco has 57.6, Washington 55, New York 52.8 and Pittsburgh 51.4.

In points scored, Baltimore has racked up 100 on 13 touchdowns, 13 extra points and 3 field goals. Pittsburgh is second with 69 points followed by Washington with 64, Chicago Cardinals and San Francisco, each 54.

Green Bay's Packers lead in punting, averaging 49.2 yards for 13 punts. Second is New York with 46.3.

The Colts top the league in rush defense, allowing opponents an average gain of 1.4 yards for each of 70 running plays. New York, second in this department, has permitted 29 yards ,followed by Cleveland 3.2.

Los Angeles tops pass defense, allowing the opposition to complete 42.6 per cent of their passes. San Francisco and Detroit have allowed 42.9.

Leafs Dealt 3 Cards

TORONTO (AP) — Rudie Schaffer, general manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League Wednesday announced the addition of three baseball players obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals.

Obtained from St. Louis farm clubs were infielder Wally Shannon, 23, from Houston of the Texas League; pitcher Harold Byfuss, 24, from Winnipeg in the Class C Northern League, and outfielder Charlie Staniland from Decatur in the Midwest League.

Voiles had low gross for 18 holes with a 73, while low net went to Anderson on his 84-17—67. Charlie Boswell had low gross for nine holes, and low net for nine went to W. H. Browne.

Other awards were: low six, John M. Campbell; high total on par three's Bob Easley; most holes in odd figures, Dr. H. A. Capek; blind bogey, Dr. Paul Peterson; nearest pin #5, Bob Lau; and nearest pin #10, Thurston Phelps.

Webb KOs LaBua In First

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Spider Webb, a hard hitting Chicago middleweight, knocked out Jackie LaBua in 59 seconds of the first round of their scheduled 10-round fight Wednesday night.

LaBua, an unranked middleweight from Brooklyn, landed two solid rights on the jaw of the 6th ranking middleweight, then went down when Webb exploded a right to his chin.

Webb, who weighed 160 pounds, quickly displayed the power that has carried him to victory in 23 of 25 previous fights.

His opponent, who went in at 157½, had a three-win string going until he ran afoul of Webb. Prior to Wednesday, he had won 28 of 39.

Drake-Colorado St. Game Ppd. By Flu

Scottsbluff Game Postponed By Flu

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP) — Flu among Scottsbluff High School students has caused postponement of a football game scheduled with Kearney at Kearney Friday.

Athletic director Leo Stangle said Kearney agreed to the postponement Wednesday. The game, a west Big Ten Conference contest, has been tentatively set for Nov. 11.

Absenteeism here went over the 300 mark Wednesday and school officials said 21 per cent of junior and senior high students were missing from classes.

Ike To See Two Games

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House Wednesday announced plans for President Eisenhower to attend two football games outside Washington—one at Annapolis, Md., Oct. 26 and the other at West Point, N. Y., Nov. 2.

At the Annapolis Naval Academy the president will be guest of the Nevy in watching a game between Army and Navy teams with players weighing no more than 150 pounds.

At West Point, Eisenhower's alma mater, he will see the Army varsity play Colgate.

After those two games the president will have seen teams representing the Army, Navy and Air Force in action this year. He saw the Air Force Academy squad lose to George Washington University here last Friday night.

Mrs. Eisenhower plans to accompany the president to the West Point game.

Milwaukee Sells Jolly To Giants

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The world champion Milwaukee Braves Wednesday announced the sale of relief pitcher Dave Jolly, who saw very little action this season, to the Giants.

General Manager John Quinn said the transaction that sent Jolly to San Francisco was a straight cash deal and no waivers were involved. He declined to reveal the purchase price.

Jolly, a righthander who was 33 Tuesday, won one and lost one during the Braves' National League campaign. He did not appear in the World Series.

Lincoln AFB Opens Cage Practice

The 1957-58 version of the Lincoln Air Force Base Flyer basketball squad opened practices this week in the base gymnasium. Prospective coach is Lt. Robert Doda.

Doda is one of six returnees from last year's squad, which boasted a 16-15 record. The others are Early Isibue, Charles Palmer, James Howard, Fred Jackson, and Don Unger.

Labor Leader Desires Anderson As Candidate For Senate

FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—President Gordon Preble of the AFL-CIO said Wednesday he wished that Gov. Victor Anderson would run in 1960 for the Senate seat held by Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb).

Preble's comment was made after Gov. Anderson addressed the annual meeting of the statewide labor group.

The governor praised Preble as a capable leader who "has won the confidence of both labor and business." He remarked that he and Preble are usually able to lay aside differences in a united effort to improve conditions of the working man.

Father Union Worker

Anderson related that his father was an active union member for more than 35 years, and he told of union meetings in the Anderson home while his father worked at the railroad shops at Havelock.

That particular movement failed, he said, but the present day group has succeeded where its forebears did not.

The governor said that partly through the efforts of Preble and his fellow workers, during the last four years Anderson has been governor, unemployment compensation has been increased by $6 a week and death benefits by $1,900 a year.

Immediately after his address, which was given an ovation, Gov. Anderson left for Omaha to attend a noon meeting of the downtown optimist club.

Pension Plan Backed

Before the convention closed Wednesday afternoon, the labor group approved a resolution which would set up a pension plan for the two salaried officers of the statewide group.

The officers are Gordon Preble, Omaha, president; and E. F. Noble of Grand Island, treasurer.

The AFL-CIO awarded its 1958 convention to Scottsbluff and the 1959 meeting to Lincoln, at which time new officers will be elected.

Among other resolutions passed was one recommending to the national convention that all states send their AFL-CIO news to all high schools in the state.

In addition to these actions and committee reports the closing session of the convention heard an address by state Sen. Ray C. Simmons of Fremont, who talked on immpressions of his first term in the Nebraska Legislature. Simmons said he had been surprised that some factions recognized as backers of farmers, sometimes voted differently in the Legislature. He said there was no so-called block voting, however.

Earlier Gene Larson, midwestern area director of the AFL-CIO committee on political education, told the delegates that the Nebraska Congressional delegation as a whole did not vote favorably for bills in Congress relating to Labor.

Sen. Hruska (R-Neb), he said "has no right votes as far as labor is concerned."

Larsen also told the delegates not to blame workers who weren't organized because in some cases "they don't dare. The employer has what he needs, the right to work law and the Taft-Hartley act."

Preble's Attack On Curtis 'Based On Misinformation'

OMAHA (AP) — Republican State Chairman Richard E. Spelts Jr. Wednesday declared State AFL-CIO President Gordon Preble's attack on Sen. Curtis (R-Neb) is "based on misinformation and colored by Preble's own distorted and unfounded belief that Senator Curtis is anti-labor."

Preble charged in his keynote address to the AFL-CIO convention in Fremont that Curtis is attempting to tear down the labor movement. Curtis is a member of the Senate Labor Rackets committee which currently is conducting hearings.

"The truth is that much of the information which comes to the McClellan Committee and to Senator Curtis comes from honest, rank and file members of the labor unions who want some help in cleaning up their particular union, and who look to Senator Curtis and the McClellan Committee for such help," Spelts said in a statement.

"Mr. Preble's confused thinking leads him to the illogical conclusion that since Senator Curtis is fighting the gangster element in labor that he is anti-labor," Spelts said. "Actually, the only logical conclusion is that he is making a sincere effort on behalf of the rank and file members of all unions to help them rid themselves of these hoodlums—an effort which Mr. George Meany has admitted will be of assistance to the AFL-CIO in cleaning and strengthening the national organization. Mr. Preble should exert his efforts toward helping the McClellan committee in this endeavor."

Boy Abandoning Baby Admits Burglary Spree

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — A teen-age errant babysitter, who abandoned his charge on a wild 500-mile drive, Wednesday admitted a five-state crime spree.

He is Phillip Dean Ireton, a 14-year-old Kansas City, Kan., boy with a long juvenile record.

Under questioning Wednesday, the youth was reported by detective William Grable to have admitted burglarizing 49 places between Oct. 9 and 13 in South Dakota, Wyoming, Nebraska, Iowa and Michigan.

Ran Road-Block

Ireton's spree came to an end here Tuesday when police caught him after he had threatened to kill a deputy sheriff at Hebron, Neb., and then had run through a road- block near Belleville, Kan.

In his flight he left at Hebron a 17-month-old boy he was bringing from Redfield, S. D., to Kansas City, Kan.

When arrested he gave his name as Phillip Daniel Parker, 16, Lake Andes, S. D. Wednesday he admitted he was Ireton. Police said he was on parole from the Kansas State Reformatory at Hutchinson. He had been serving a sentence there after escaping twice from the boys Industrial School at Topeka, where he had been sent for car theft.

Charged With Vagrancy

Otis L. Burdette, state parole agent, said the youth would be returned to Hutchinson. He was charged Wednesday with vagrancy and is held under a $1,000 bond.

Ireton displayed remorse for his latest escapade.

"Too bad I wasn't killed," he said.

He related he had been attending junior school here, but when Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spotted Eagle, friends of his, decided to go to South Dakota he went with them. Upon their arrival at Redfield, Mrs. Spotted Eagle decided to send her son, Danny McLachlan, back to Kansas City, Kan., to his grandparents. The youth agreed to bring the child back but abandoned him in fleeing from an officer at Hebron.

Injuries Claim Dakotan's Life

LYNCH, Neb. (AP)—Martin J. McCloud, 55, of Martin, S. D., has died of injuries received in a one-car accident a mile northwest of Spencer, Neb., on U.S. Highway 281 early last Saturday.

McCloud died in a Lynch hospital.

Spencer Marshal Joe Loock who investigated said McCloud, who was alone, lost control of his car which went through a guard rail and overturned.

It was Nebraska's 227th traffic fatality of the year compared with 242 at this time a year ago.

Falls City's United Fund Goal Below '56

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — The United Fund drive for $8,950 will get under way here Oct. 31 under the chairmanship of Archibald J. Weaver.

The quota is $3,050 below that set for the 1956 drive and about $500 above what actually was raised in the first United Fund drive here a year ago.

94 Pct. Nebraska Farms Electrified, REA Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 94 per cent of Nebraska farms now have electricity, compared with 7.1 per cent in 1935.

So reports the Rural Electrification Administration (REA), estimating that 94,850 farms in the state were electrified as of last June 30.

The national average on that date was 94.8 per cent.

REA was created in 1935 and the first Nebraska REA loan was approved that same year. The first REA-financed line was put into operation in the state in 1936 by the Norris Rural Public Power District of Beatrice.

REA said that it had approved a total of $151,965,157 in electric loans to 36 borrowers in the state as of last July 1. None has completed repayment.

The loans were made to build 60,142 miles of line and other rural electric facilities to serve a total of 106,086 rural consumers. Most of these facilities are now in operation.

REA said $11,031,489 in interest and $14,012,978 of principal on the loans had been repaid by July 1. Additionally, the state's borrowers had paid $4,548,038 ahead of schedule.

Average monthly consumption on REA-financed lines in the state also showed a large jump from 1949 to 1956, the agency said.

This figure was 184 kilowatt hours per farm in 1949 as compared with 358 kilowatt hours in 1956.

Rites Friday For Dr. Pitzer

Lincoln Star Special

FAIRBURY, Neb. — Funeral services for Dr. Charles H. Pitzer, 64-year-old Fairbury dentist, will be held at 10 a.m. Friday at the Nuckolls Funeral Home in Fairbury.

He died from a self-inflicted bullet wound, according to county authorities. Officers said Dr. Pitzer did not leave a note.

Dr. Pitzer was found dead at his home by his wife, Vivia, when she arrived home from her duties as physical education instructor in the Fairbury schools.

Mrs. Pitzer was accompanied home by Dr. D. O. Hughes, a Fairbury physician, who had been called by the sheriff's office a short time earlier to check Dr. Pitzer for possible injuries suffered in a one-car accident in the afternoon.

County Sheriff Deyo Hughes said Dr. Pitzer's auto struck the corner of a railroad viaduct just northwest of Fairbury on Highway 3. The sheriff said Dr. Pitzer refused treatment at the time of the crash.

County Attorney Melvin Moss said Dr. Pitzer had been despondent for a couple of weeks.

The Fairbury dentist had practiced in this community about 35 years. He moved to Fairbury from Hebron. Dr. Pitzer received his dental degree from the University of Nebraska in 1919. He was a member of Xi Psi Phi, honorary fraternity. Dr. Pitzer was affiliated with the Elks and Masonic lodges in Fairbury.

Burial will be in Holdrege. His wife is his only survivor.

Dissolution Of School Reorganization Committee Unneeded—Turner

By DEL HARDING
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County School Superintendent Glenn E. Turner declared Wednesday that the action of the State School Reorganization Committee last week in dissolving Lancaster County's Reorganization Committee was "unnecessary" and will probably seriously impair school re-districting in this county.

Turner had withheld comment on the state committee's move until he received official notification of the disssolution as one of 43 county committees dissolved for alleged failure to submit to the state committee a comprehensive plan for school redistricting within their counties by Sept. 15.

Turner said that unless the state committee takes some action to correct the impression given that the Lancaster County committee did not do good work on redistricting that he will refuse to name a new county committee as the state group has ordered.

The superintendent said that the state committee can name its own committee if it wishes.

The state committee cited Sect. 79-426.08 of the Nebraska Statutes as requiring dissolution of all county committees which had not submitted the required comprehensive plans by Sept. 15 as its reason for dissolution of the 43 county committees.

But Turner declared that the statute does not require dissolution of the county committees but gives the state committee power to extend the life of any county committee which it believes is doing a worthwhile job.

Turner said in a letter to Dr. F. B. Decker, state committee chairman, that the Lancaster County committee "has done a lot of good work and has laid the basis for a comprehensive re-organization plan."

Turner added that since the committee would have been dissolved anyway in early November (as provided for when the committee was formed), he believes the "decent action of your committee would have been to notify our committee that it could be dissolved but was being permitted to continue for the few remaining weeks of its legal existence."

"Please notify your committee," Turner wrote Dr. Decker, "that it will take more than "urging' to get me to have a new committee elected."

Members of the now-dissolved Lancaster County Committee were: Ralph E. Harlan of Hickman, chairman; William H. Mann of Malcolm, vice chairman; Turner, secretary; Edwin W. Booth of Walton; Donald Egger of Roca; Carl G. Nelson of Raymond; Daniel Olson of Raymond; the late Victor Schwaninger of Hallam; Glenn Umberger of Rt. 5, Lincoln; and R. E. Wagner, formerly of Rt. 7, Lincoln.

10 Expelled

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—The Polish Communist party expelled 10 members of the editorial staff of the student paper Po Prostu.

Student demonstrations over the paper's banning were followed by riots here two weeks ago.

A party communique said the expelled editors were guilty of anti-party activity and did not change their views despite party control commission members' talks with them.

Plans Completed For State Land Judging Contest

Lincoln-Star Special

BEATRICE, Neb.—FFA land judging teams from 18 Nebraska towns and 13 4-H teams from 13 counties are expected to take part in the state land judging contest to be held at Beatrice Tuesday under the sponsorship of the Beatrice Chamber of Commerce.

Chairman A. J. Vance announced registration would begin at the Beatrice Municipal Airport at 8 a.m. Harold Gilman, of Lincoln, extension convervationist at the University of Nebraska, will hold an orientation meeting at 9 a.m. with teams going to the judging site at 10 a.m.

Following the announcement of winners at 1 p.m., teams will be conducted on a tour of the Indian Creek Watershed Project as the final activity.

Teams will be judged on their abilities to recognize and utilize various types of soils and at judging land values.

Agrees With Red

ROME (AP) — Pietro Nenni's Italian Socialist party Wednesday night told Nikita Khrushchev it largely agreed with his views on the Middle East.

In sending this reply to a letter received from the Soviet Communist party boss, the Nenni Socialists risked destroying even the faintest hope of one day merging with the rival Social Democrat party.

Khrushchev's letter reportedly was the same as the ones he sent other European Socialists, proposing a Soviet-Socialist alliance on Middle East problems.

Sputnik Still Lively, Some Scientists Feel

ROCKET MOVING FASTER

By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some U.S. scientists figured Wednesday there is a lot of life yet remaining in the Russian satellite and the rocket shell accompanying it around the earth.

The rocket, said scientists at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., has at least 100 days of life left while the satellite itself probably will remain aloft considerably longer.

And as the Soviet Sputnik spun through space, Secretary of State Dulles said its successful launching by the Russians on Oct. 4 was a useful thing because it aroused the country and congress to the importance of the missiles program.

U.S. Has Bomber Lead

Russia, Dulles said, may be ahead of the United States in satellites and missiles, but the United States has military superiority because of its lead in heavy bombers. In five or 10 years, he told a news conference, missiles may be the decisive weapon so it is important for this country to push ahead with its programs.

Longevity predictions of the Smithsonian scientists conflicted somewhat with the view of one government scientist who has calculated the Soviet satellite might come down within a week. Robert Jastrow, consultant at the Naval Research Laboratory here, said there were indications the Sputnik is losing altitude and might plunge earthward to an early death.

Wednesday Dr. Jastrow and another NRL physicist, Dr. Cabell A. Pearce, suggested that electrical effects may be shortening the life of the satellite.

They said calculations indicate the satellite picked up a substantial negative electrical charge in hurtling through the upper atmosphere and the result would be an electrical drag force which would be added to the normal air drag.

The two emphasized that they are not attempting to make any accurate estimate of the satellite's expected lift time.

Rocket Is Losing

The Smithsonian experts said that definitely the accompanying rocket is losing altitude. As it loses altitude it gains in speed—just as a stone whirling on the end of a string goes faster, relatively, when the string is shortened.

Smithsonian officials said the rocket is making each trip around the globe four seconds faster than the previous circle and since it makes 15 trips daily the cumulative effect is a one-minute gain each day.

The rocket is due to make three appearances over the United States Thursday—at 4:53 a.m. (EST) in the east, at 6:24 in the Rock Mountain area and about 95 minutes later along the California coast.

Clamp Gag On Military

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army, Navy and Air Force have ordered their personnel to limit their comments and discussion of missile or satellite matters, the House Government Information Subcommittee said Wednesday.

The Army and the Air Force said personnel should refrain from making public statements on the subject.

The Navy said officers were directed to make no statement relative to space satellites except in the context of a statement made by Rear Adm. Rawson Bennett, chief of naval research, on Oct. 8, 1957, or unless cleared by the chief of information.

All directives bore the same date —Oct. 9, 1957, four days after news of the launching of the Soviet earth satellite hit American newspapers.

The subcommittee staff said it was only after persistent pressure that it got copies of the orders from the three services. Word of the gag had leaked out and the staff said it understood reporters had tried in vain to get copies at the Pentagon.

The staff said the directives were sure to come up in hearings Nov. 18-19 when Murray Snyder, Assistant Secretary of Defense for Public Affairs is a scheduled witness. The staff made particular note of the fact that all the orders bore the same date and said a question would be whether they stemmed from somewhere higher up at the Pentagon.

2 Alternates For No. 48th During Work

Two alternate routes are being provided for North 48th from Holdrege to Leighton, which is closed for repaving and widening.

Mayor Bennett Martin said that 56th provides the best route and two police officers will direct traffic to the 48th detour.

However, 49th street, which will be graveled within the "next few days," will be opened also as a detour route, the mayor said.

Martin said the opening of 49th with gravel has been prompted by hundreds of phone calls to City Hall.

Depending upon the weather, Martin said the No. 48th repaving and widening would be completed in 30 days.

Abel Construction Co. was awarded Monday the $90,234.75 contract for the job.

Bids have been called for Oct. 28 on a concrete-deck beam bridge on North 48th over Dead Man's Run.

Martin said the bridge construction would not begin until after the paving is completed and a by-pass for the bridge can be provided.

Dog Went Aloft 130 Miles—Reds

MOSCOW (INS) — The Soviet Navy newspaper "Soviet Fleet" Wednesday published a picture of a dog it said had traveled 130 miles into the atmosphere in a Soviet Rocket test.

The paper said the dog suffered no ill effects from the experience. Plans already are being made, "Soviet Fleet" said, to send up a Soviet earth satellite containing animals.

Edward D. Marsh Rites In Grafton

Funeral services for Edward D. Marsh, 78, of Sutton, Neb., who died in Lincoln Tuesday, will be at 9:30 a.m. Friday at St. Helena's Catholic Church in Grafton.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Grafton Church and burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery at Geneva. Military graveside rites will be conducted by the Samuel J. Marsh VFW, Post 7102, of Geneva.

Mr. Marsh, a native of Grafton, farmed there until his retirement. He moved to Sutton about ten years ago.

He was a member of St. Helena's Catholic Church, the Samuel J. Marsh VFW Post at Geneva, and was a veteran of the Spanish-American War.

Surviving are his daughters, Miss Helen Marsh and Mrs. Alice Price, both of Lincoln, and Mrs. Jean Picurro of Carteret, N.J.; sons, Leo of Seattle, Wash., and Kenneth of Littleton, Colo.; brother, Sam of Kimball; sisters, Miss Lida Marsh of Chicago, Miss Georgia Marsh of Geneva, Mrs. May Stahl of Geneva, Mrs. Nell Willey of Fairmont and Mrs. Julia Smith of Crete; and 13 grandchildren.

Curtis Proposes Labor Legislation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A broad legislative program to stamp out "gangsterism" and "corruption" in the labor movement was outlined here Wednesday by Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb).

In a speech for the annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, Curtis, a member of the McClellan Committee investigating labor, called for support of this seven-point program:

1. Legislation requiring a thorough accounting of union dues and welfare funds.

2. Legislation assuring union members greater control over voting methods, nomination and election of officers and delegates and methods of holding conventions.

3. Outlawing of the practice of exerting pressure on neutral businesses where there is no labor dispute. This is commonly called the secondary boycott . . . and it often amounts to economic blackmail."

4. A more effective method for preventing the use of union funds for political purposes.

5. "Anti-trust and anti-monopoly laws have been enacted to protect the public from the abuses that come from the concentration of economic power . . . therefore legal restraints should be imposed against the concentration of union power by groups of unions when that power becomes a threat to the welfare of the country."

6. The responsibilities for maintaining law and order and for the prosecution for assaults, bombings and like offenses should remain the responsibility of the state and local governments.

7. Union membership should be voluntary and not compulsory. "No American citizen should be required to belong to any organization in order to secure or hold his job."

Range Conditions Best In 6 Years

Nebraska range feed conditions as of Oct. 1 were the best since 1951, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported.

Conditions were rated at 88 per cent. This compared with 68 per cent a year earlier and a 10-year average of 88 per cent.

The average condition of cattle and calves in the Nebraska range area was calculated at 90 per cent as of Oct. 1, unchanged for the month.

Inter-County Party For Youths Slated

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP)—A party for rural young people from 15 to 20 nearby counties is slated to commence at 8 p.m. Oct. 25 here.

Marilyn Saathoff, Hastings, secretary of the Adams County Rural Group, said Wednesday the inter-county party would be held in the activity building at the Adams County fairgrounds and features would include square and round dancing, skits and stunts.

Bond Sales Reach 70.8% Of '57 Goal

OMAHA—W. B. Millard Jr., state chairman of the Nebraska savings bond committee, released figures stating that Nebraskans had purchased E and H bonds in the amount of $5,674,169 during the month of September. Total sales for the period January through September amounted to $61,980,909 representing 70.8% of Nebraska's goal.

Millard, president of the Omaha National Bank, said that since the Treasury Department introduced the new type E punch card bond on October 1, considerable interest has been shown by purchasers and by many business leaders that have the payroll savings plan. This new bond will save a half million dollars a year in production costs alone.

Electrical Code Reports Up Monday

The majority and minority reports on Lincoln's electrical ordinance will be discussed at the Monday morning meeting of the City Council.

Mayor Bennett Martin said any public hearing on the ordinance would be scheduled for a later Council meeting.

A "task force" committee, headed by Grey Jewett, has recommended to the City Council that the group "sees nothing wrong with the present ordinance, and if the Council should feel additional inspection is needed under existing ordinance, it should make provisions to do so."

The report said the committee generally concurred with Don Venter, city electrical inspector, that the present ordinance is adequate and electrical inspections "well cared for at present."

However, a "minority report" by three members of the 22-man task force committee representing city officials, Chamber of Commerce, electrical contractors, utility firms and other business firms, charged that the 20-minute average including travel for electrical inspections "is not adequate to provide proper inspections."

It stressed the lack of re-inspection, particularly as to old and unsafe wiring and urged "bonding provisions" for electrical work because under the present ordinance, the "city assumes no responsibility for inspection work."

Girard Japanese Trial To Resume

MAEBASHI, Japan (Thursday) —William Girard's Japanese trial swings Friday into the last set of hearings that will complete the taking of testimony in the widely-publicized case.

Maebashi Court Presiding Judge Yuzo Kawachi has scheduled five days of sessions which will see the defense call the last of its witnesses in the GI's trial for manslaughter.

The 22-year-old soldier's Japanese lawyer, Itsuro Hayashi, said he hopes to complete examination of six witnesses—four U.S. Army men and two Japanese—Friday.

Saturday, the trial may return to the scene of the slaying of a Japanese woman last Jan. 30 to give Judge Kawachi a chance to re-question two prosecuting witnesses whose testimony was contradictory.

They are Girard's former Army buddy SP-3 Victor Nickel, 21, Inkster, Mich., and 29-year-old farmer Hidetsugu Onozeki. They will testify on Hill 655, on the Somagahara firing range where Mrs. Naka Sakai was fatally shot while scavenging for spent cartridges.

If Saturday's weather is inclement, the outdoor hearing will be held Sunday. A defense spokesman said:

"The evidence could be finished Saturday night if we complete examination of witnesses Friday and the judge finishes with Onozeki and Nickel Saturday."

The prosecution said that it hoped to present its final argument in the case—a 10,000 word document—on Oct. 31, the next scheduled hearing after Oct. 22.

27th Fatality

HIROSHIMA (INS)—Saburo Komaki, 44, a former policeman, died in Hiroshima from the effects of radiation poisoning attributed to the atomic bombing of the city 12 years ago.

Japanese physicians listed the case as this year's 27th fatality among the Hiroshima victims of the A-bomb. Komaki was serving on a first-aid team in the center of the city when the bomb was touched off on Aug. 8, 1945.

Journalism Students Work On Film Story

Two women who studied journalism at the University of Nebraska worked on a film story, "You Can Make the Difference," being used this week for promotion of the United Fund campaign in Lincoln.

Phyllis Bonner, a University junior from Imperial, prepared the script and Mrs. Jo Kroeger McGurk, a 1957 graduate, took most of the photographs used in the color slide presentation.

Ex-Red Agent Tells Federal Jury Of $5,000 Treasure He 'Dug Up And Kept'

NEW YORK (INS) — Pudgy Reino Hayhanen told a Brooklyn Federal Court Jury Wednesday of complicated codes and a $5,000 treasure he "dug up and kept" before exposing his Soviet spy boss in America.

Then, his direct testimony over, the poker-faced former Soviet agent listened with his hands folded on his lap as attorneys for alleged Russian master spy Rudolf Hanovich Abel demanded notes on all statements he had given to the FBI.

By asking for the notes, the defense attorneys made it clear they hope to tear Hayhanen apart when they have the star prosecution witness under cross examination, starting Thursday.

While all this was going on, Abel watched with ferret-like intensity, conferred with his attorneys and took copious notes.

He can be sentenced to death if convicted on the first of three charges of conspiring to commit espionage.

Court-appointed defense attorney James Donovan asked for all statements given by Hayhanen to FBI agents, as provided under the law passed by Congress this summer.

The law lays down ground rules for opening up certain FBI files to defendants. It was passed after the Supreme Court reversed the conviction of southwest labor leader Clinton E. Jencks.

Federal Judge Mortimer W. Byers ordered Assistant U.S. Attorney General William F. Tompkins, who is prosecuting the case, to turn over to Donovan all written and signed statements made by Hayhanen.

He also called for the prosecution to give him the "original notes" made by agents who interviewed Hayhanen after he defected to the West last May.

Presumably, the judge would determine if the notes meet the "substantially verbatim" clause of the law, and thus must be turned over to the defense before the trial resumes Thursday morning.

'Dug Up'

Early in the day—third of the trial—Hayhanen calmly told how he had "dug up and kept" $5,000 that had been buried in Bear Mountain State Park, north of New York City.

Tuesday, Hayhanen claimed Abel told him the money was meant for "Helen Sobell," whom he was supposed to contact and recruit as an agent. He identified her as the wife of an agent named "Stone," who he said was convicted and is now serving 30 years for espionage.

Morton Sobell was sentenced to 30 years' imprisonment after conviction on spy charges with Julius and Ethel Rosenberg in 1951.

Hayhanen also told of the complicated numbers code he had used to receive about 30 to 35 messages in five years in the U.S. He said he sent about 25 messages during the same period.

Hayhanen told how Abel sent secret messages on "microdots" or tiny, reduced photographs, to Moscow.

He said, "he (Abel) told me he is sending microdots to Paris, France. He was sending them inside magazines."

Abel, he added, took the binding staples out of the magazines, slipped the "microdots" under the staples, and replaced the staples.

Integration Seen

CHICAGO (INS) — Maryland Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin predicted that Negro and white children will attend Southern schools together "in the next 15 years."

McKeldin, one of the four Southern governors who conferred with President Eisenhower on the Little Rock crisis, told a Chicago news conference he expects "incidents" but they will not change the course of integration.

City Attorney Replacement Likely Soon

Early appointment of a successor to resigning City Atty. Jack M. Pace was indicated Wednesday by Mayor Bennett Martin.

Council discussion of possible appointees will come up Monday and possibly earlier if a special meeting is called this week, Martin said.

The mayor said Pace would be present when the Council discusses suggested attorneys for the job.

"Pace has done an outstanding job as city attorney" and the Council will "want to rely on his judgment" in filling the post.

Pace submitted his resignation last Friday effective Dec. 1 to become general counsel for Farmer Mutual Insurance Company of Nebraska and enter private practice in Lincoln.

U.S. Mum On British H-Bomb Control Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atomic officials Wednesday declined to show excitement over a London report that British scientists have discovered how to control the hydrogen bomb process for peaceful use.

The Atomic Engergy Commission (AEC) which is subsidizing research on the termonuclear process for producing electric power in three laboratories, gave its usual "no comment" reaction.

Experts said a scientific breakthrough on one aspect of the problem would be "gratifying" but would leave many obstacles.

The London report, in the Daily Express, said two British scientists and a Canadian colleague had discovered how to control the fusion of hydrogen atoms. It quoted a scientist at Britain's Harwell Nuclear Laboratory as saying electric power from fusion would "certainly be available for this generation."

Advantages

The fusion process would have advantages over the fission technique used in today's atomic power plants. It would be safer, scientists agree, and would present no problem of disposal of dangerous radio active wastes. There also would be a limitless fuel supply—the waters of the ocean.

However, a Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee staff expert said that attaining the necessary heat for fusion is "only one element of the problem." Many others must be solved—such as controlling the instability of the gas and containing it under enormous pressures—"before you can even think about harnessing it to a turbine," this expert said.

He suggested that it would be "a good many years" before the problems were licked.

20 Years

AEC chairman Lewis L. Strauss, has suggested it may take 20 years to achieve fusion power. The AEC did not alter this estimate when a similar report from London concerning British developments was printed in this country last month.

U.S. scientists are looking forward with interest to a joint U.S.-British conference at Princeton University Thursday and Friday at which research leaders of the two countries will exchange classified information on thermonuclear power, under terms of the British-American agreement for cooperation in the exchange of atomic information.

Terry Breaks Calmness At Road Hearing

Lincoln Star Special

GERING, Neb.—State Sen. Terry Carpenter stirred up the most excitement at the Nebraska advisory commission hearing on the possible relocation of Highway 29 here Wednesday.

There was an atmosphere of serenity between the backers of both Highways 29 and 87. Under consideration is a proposal to build a 12-mile diagonal road southeast of Agate to connect Highway 29 with paralleling No. 87.

The atmosphere was broken, however, when Sen. Carpenter, who said he came at no one's request, urged the commission not to drop Highway 29, but to hard surface both of them.

"If I had to choose between the two highways I would pick 29 because of its background," he told the commission after urging them to build both including the diagonal cutoff.

Heated Argument

Commission members J. R. McBride of Minden and Merle Kingsbury of Ponca took heated argument with Carpenter after the Scottsbluff senator said that roads are built on politics.

The backers of Highway 29 paraded a long list of supporters before the commission under the direction of Earl Cherry, Sioux County rancher.

Elmer Bowen, Sioux County commissioner, reported to the commission that matching funds from bond issues and contributions in excess of $65,000 had been supplied by Sioux County residents.

Several speakers said it would be a breach of promise to Sioux County residents if Highway 29 is not constructed after the precincts in the county had issued bonds and contributed money.

Fear Abandonment

Highway 29 backers fear the abandonment of 24 miles of the highway if the diagonal to Highway 87 is built.

The Highway 29 proposal has developed into one of western Nebraska's most heated current road controversies.

The commission adjourned to study the testimony prior to making its recommendations at a later date.

Commission member Dr. E. R. Watson, who has been charged with trying to get the diagonal constructed for his own benefit, disqualified himself from eventually voting on the question.

Dr. Watson, who was present at the hearing, owns a ranch on Highway 87 north of Scottsbluff.

LANCASTER, DAWSON COUNTY AGENTS CITED

BOSTON, Mass. — Two Nebraska county Extension agents were among those receiving distinguished service awards at the National Assn. of County Agricultural Agents (NACAA) meeting here.

They are Cyril Bish, Lincoln, and Harold Stevens, Lexington.

Bish has been Lancaster County agent since 1954. Before that he worked 10 years for the Extension Service in Hamilton and Adams counties.

His extenion program has emphasized work with 4-H and Rural Youth clubs, tree planting under the Clarke-McNary program, crop and livestock production, irrigation and conservation and dairying.

Born in Giltner, Bish is a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

State Award

Stevens, Dawson County agent since 1945, was awarded the Nebraska county agent grassland award in 1952 by the NACAA and National Fertilizer Assn.

Main points for his Extension program have included educational farm tours, promotion of Ranger alfalfa and "Reach for Top Corn Yields" program, and work with 4-H Clubs.

Omaha Flu Cases Apparently Easing

OMAHA (AP) — The flu epidemic was easing slightly in Omaha Wednesday as schools reported slight drops in the number of absentees.

The number of absences remained close to 20 per cent, however.

Most of the absences were in high schools. Neither the elementary schools nor industry reported an unusually large number of absences. Mercy High School, which was closed down Tuesday, was reopened with 198 out of 640 absent, down from a high of 240 Monday before the school was closed for the day.

Other affected high schools reported absences decreasing.

Dobson Bros. Bid Is Apparent Low On Paving District

Bids on Paving District 1523 on 61st from South to Normal were received Wednesday at City Hall.

Dobson Bros. Construction Co. was apparent low bidder at $16,620.45. Abel Construction Co. bid $16,831.40. The engineer's estimate was $17,000.

Two bids for the reconstruction of traffic signals and street lighting at 13th and M were received. Dodson Electric Co. bid $4,792 and Commonwealth Electric Co., $4,995. The engineer's estimate was $5,200.

'Star Farmer'

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (INS) — Clarence C. Chappell Jr., 21, of Belvidere, N. C., was hailed as the "Star Farmer of America" at the 30th annual convention of the Future Farmers of America.

Nearly 10,000 youths from all parts of the nation joined at Kansas City to honor Chappell, who received a $1,000 check.

Film Readied

LONDON (AP) — Russia disclosed a full-length film is being made on the launching of Sputnik — but did not say whether the rest of the world would be shown how the satellite was rocketed into space.

Moscow Radio said the film would be in documentary style and show the firing of the satellite and it sailing round the earth.

Other scenes will show preparatory work by scientists and experimental rocket flights carrying dogs as passengers.

Employe Claims Cases Called Vital

Three pending cases involving unemployment compensation claims "are of great significance to the building construction industry, not only in this state but throughout the United States," attorneys for three Omaha construction firms told the State Supreme Court Wednesday.

The companion cases give the Supreme Court a chance to interpret the Employment Security Law "in the light of modern collective bargaining practices," the attorneys said in a brief.

Involved is the question of how directly an employe must be involved in a labor dispute before he is barred from claiming unemployment compensation benefits for being off the job during such disputes.

The cases have been appealed by A. Borchman Sons, Cooper Construction Co. and Parsons Construction Co., after the Douglas County District Court held that the three employes involved were entitled to unemployment benefits.

Bible, Thrift, Clean Air Observances Planned

National Bible Week, National Thrift Week and Cleaner Air Week will be observed in Nebraska next week, according to proclamations issued by Gov. Victor Anderson.

Insufficient Evidence

The State Liquor Control Commission, because of insufficient evidence, has dismissed a complaint charging that Robert G. Petersen of Waterloo, holder of an outside beer license, sold liquor to a minor.

Quiet Drop Ends Stock Recovery

NEW YORK (AP)—A quiet decline Wednesday cut short the stock market's two-day recovery drive after last week's huge losses.

Among pivotal stocks the range of losses ran to around 2 points. There were only a few gainers.

The day starts routinely with prices about two-to-one on the downside in generally expected profit-taking after the swing to the upside on this week's first two sessions. A few small early gains were made among aircrafts and missiles but they soon evaporated.

The warlike pronouncements about the Syrian crisis began coming before noon but they had little or no immediate effect upon prices or the rate of trading. Wars and threats of war frequently send the market down in nervous selling or else boost prices of defense stocks. But the initial news today seemed to leave Wall Street indifferent.

Prices hovered moderately lower until about the final hour when losses deepened with a slight pick up of trading but no particular selling pressure. Among market analysts there was some disappointment expressed that the aircrafts and other defense issues did not rise in response to the Syrian news.

Depressing news in the background included a renewed cut in copper prices, a drop in housing starts and the September decline in personal income, the first monthly fall since 1956.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $1.00 to $161.00 with the industrials down $2.20, the rails down $1.30 and the utilities up 30 cents.

Of 1,159 issues traded, declines totaled 634 and advances 283. There were 76 new lows for the year and no new highs.

Volume was the lowest of the past eight sessions, totaling 2,050,000 shares compared with 2,620,000 Tuesday.

Of the 15 most active stocks, 10 fell, 4 rose and one was unchanged.

Prices also were generally lower on the American Stock Exchange where volume dwindled to 780,000 shares from 820,000 Tuesday. Among the losers were International Petroleum, Pacific Petroleum, British Petroleum, Imperial Oil, Hazeltine and Molybdenum.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. government bonds were narrowly mixed in slow dealings Wednesday while corporates were firm for the most part.

Rails declined, foreign dollar liens advanced. Industrials, utilities and top grade investment issues were steady. Trading was dull with most changes limited to fractions.

Corporate trading declined to $4,150,000 par value on the big board from $5,000,000 Tuesday.

GRAIN FUTURES CLOSE HIGHER

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain markets closed higher Wednesday influenced by renewed apprehension over the possibility of armed conflict in the Middle East.

Most board of trade futures started about steady with Tuesday's closing levels in a quiet trade.

Midway through the session, however, the trade reacted to Secretary of State Dulles warning to Russia that the United States will back up Turkey if that country is attacked by Syria and Russia.

A brisk buying wave resulted in most grains and prices of wheat, corn and soybeans moved up more than a cent a bushel. Wheat and soybeans were up nearly two cents a bushel before profit-taking near the close cut back extreme gains.

New style wheat closed ¼ to 1⅜ higher, corn ¾ to 1⅛ higher, oats ⅜ to ⅝ higher, rye ¼ to ¾ higher, soybeans ⅛ to 1¼ higher, and lard unchanged to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Confidence Vote

AMMAN (AP) — Jordan's government won a vote of confidence in Parliament — and then withdrew from the hall in protest against a remark by a Moslem deputy.

Sheikh Ahmad Daour, of the Moslem liberation movement, one of two deputies who abstained from the vote, said the government "is actually (Foreign Minister) Samir Rifai's government, and not (Premier) Ibrahim Hashem's."

The house broke up without waiting for Daour to finish his speech or fixing a date for its next meeting.

Judge Says Free 'Em All, But Only 40 Of 725 Get Out

ATLANTA (AP)—A flu scare Wednesday prompted a city judge to authorize release of all 725 inmates at the city prison farm, but it appeared that only a few would be discharged.

"Turn 'em all out as fast as you want to," said Judge Luke Arnold to prison Supt. H. H. Gibson.

"As far as I'm concerned, they can turn 'em all out, lock the doors and sterilize the prison," the judge added.

Gibson later estimated that only about 40 prisoners would be released. He said four were discharged at noon and 12 others in mid-afternoon. About 20 more would be released when they returned from work details, Gibson added.

The superintendent said not all of the prisoners discharged were ill. "We are sending some of the older men home who have been coughing, because if flu does break out here, we don't want men around who might get pneumonia," he said.

Prisoners are sent to the farm for violating city ordinances.

RCA Claims Its Gear Not Part Of Missile Failure

NEW YORK (AP)—The Radio Corp. of America said Wednesday its new electronic guidance system—to steer defensive missiles to bring down flying targets—was not involved in Tuesday's failure of the Talos defensive unit.

The Talos, fired in its first public demonstration at White Sands Proving Ground, N.M., floundered off course because of a booster malfunction and was quickly deactivated. It crasheed without reaching the target.

Although the firing took place at a ceremony at which RCA turned over to the Army the new automatic system for launching and guiding the Talos missile, the system itself "was in no way involved," RCA said.

Dr. Elmer W. Engstrom, RCA's senior executive vice president, said the new system "will be used in Talos firing tests for the first time in the near future as the Army commences its evaluation of this new land-based equipment."

The failure Tuesday, he noted, involved the missile's external booster rocket.

Nixon Says Misstep In East Feared

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Vice President Nixon said Wednesday the United States is concerned over the possibility a "miscalculation could start a spreading war in the tense Middle East

"An exchange of rifle or machine gun fire across a border, followed by bringing in heavier weapons and then involvement of affected countries and their neighbors in large scale fighting is the thing we fear in this situation," Nixon said at a press conference before flying back to Washington.

Nixon addressed the International Industrial Development Conference here.

Closed sessions on industry and trade were underway in board rooms of 21 San Francisco corporations Wednesday. General sessions will be resumed Thursday.

Europe Tour

Nixon said the White House probably will announce Thursday whether he will make a European tour in November, as has been contemplated.

"The European trip has been under consideration for several weeks and three weeks had been tentatively set aside in November for it," Nixon said. "Then the inevitable happened and more and more invitations came in. The problem is to accept all of the invitations, to try to visit as many countries as possible, and still give sufficient time to each to fit in with their plans."

Nixon indicated that, because of the obvious need for more than the available three weeks, the trip may be postponed.

"The trip may be later in the year, if it is more convenient," he said.

DON'T MISS THIS!
A Challenge Only Case Crawlers Dare to Make!

Performance speaks louder than words! We know from our own field tests that the new heavy-duty CASE TERRA-TRAC CRAWLER TRACTORS will outperform any comparable crawler machines on the market—and WE ARE READY TO PROVE IT!

In this public TRACTORAMA CONTEST, we will prove that the Case Terra-Trac Model 1000 crawler tractor-shovel will beat any other 1½ to 2 yd. crawler rig in the field. In addition, we will prove that the Model 800 Case Terra-Trac Bulldozers and Angledozers will outwork any competitive models in their price range—BAR NONE! If you don't believe it—come and see it:

FRIDAY OCT. 18th at 10:00, 1:00, 4:00 and 7:00.

SATURDAY OCT. 19th at 9:00 and 11:00 am, 1:00, 4:00 and 7:00 pm, at 73rd Street and Cotner Blvd., in Lincoln.

And remember, this is a wide open challenge! Any contractor or dealer with a current production-model crawler in the price range of the Case Terra-Trac "1000" or "800" is invited to register his own machine and own operator with us in advance of the show. Special gifts for all tractor-operators who participate. Detailed contest rules covered in official score cards available at the show.

Free admission! Free refreshments! Door Prize.

BEAUTICIAN LEAVING BUSINESS AFTER 40 YEARS STYLING LINCOLNITES' HAIR

By NANCY BENJAMIN
Star Staff Writer

A woman who has been in the hair of Lincoln women for 40 years has decided to end her hair curling adventures for a while.

Miss Norene Lewis, owner of Simon's Beauty Shop at Ben Simon & Sons, is selling her business, but not the beauty secrets of several generations of the city.

Miss Lewis and her mother, the late Edith Belle Lewis, came to Lincoln and bought a beauty shop here in 1915. There was only one other "hair dresser" in town during that period of long hair and long hours of beauty care.

In those days Miss and Mrs. Lewis did not "do things" to hair, they cared for it. Scalp treatments, shampoos, brushing, facials, and once in a while a surreptitious curling iron treatment for straggling locks.

'As Was'

Hair was left "as was" mainly, and the long tresses received no hair styling as women of today expect.

After World War I came the marcel with its spit curls, rigid waves, and tight ringlets, became the rage, "the wildest thing that ever hit women."

By the 1920's permanents and short hair were stylish, with many irate husbands protesting the loss of their wives' locks.

Women subjected themselves to the old-style octupus-like permanent machines and to several hours of painful waiting before they emerged as butterflies, Miss Lewis relates.

Permanent waves and Irene Castle brought the short bob into popularity, Miss Lewis said, and ended the long hair era which is now "as outmoded as the horse and buggy."

Male Customers Few

Male attendance at the beauty parlor has been small, Miss Lewis relates. A few theater stock company men came in for permanents, facials, hair dyes and manicures.

Probably her most unusual customer was an aging preacher, moving from Lincoln to another pastorate, who came in to have his hair dyed "because he thought his new congregation wanted a younger man."

Miss Lewis is a little tired of giving the short, short, short haircut of today, but admits that "women have never looked better than they do now."

With today's short hair, she explained, women continue to look well even after swimming or tennis playing. The longer bobs of the '30's meant that women looked well right after they left the house, but that wind and activity "turned them into wild women."

Haircuts, Now

The younger generation, which considered beauty shops "poison", for about 10 years after World War II, are now coming in in droves, mainly for haircuts.

Home permanents, which were once expected to put beauticians out of business, paradoxically have brought millions of women into beauty shops by introducing them to the permanent wave.

"Once they try a permanent, they can't get along without one," Miss Lewis explained, "and then they realize it's easier to come to a beauty shop to get one."

Miss Lewis, who started her career at her mother's shop in the old telephone building in 1917, is selling her shop at Simon's which she and her mother have run since 1939, to J. Lillian Anderson, former manager of the beauty salon at Gold & Co.

After that, she explains, "I plan to take at least a year off, which ought to give me some time for my own hair."

Organizing Of County Cancer Groups Urged

OMAHA (AP)—Members of the Nebraska Chapter of the American Cancer Society were urged Wednesday to organize as many county chapters as possible.

ACS representative Eugene Peterson of New York City said only 10 Nebraska Counties aside from Douglas County (Omaha) have chapters at present. More grassroots organization means greater public education on cancer, he said.

Dr. John R. Schenken of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine said "cancer phobia" still keeps many people from the doctor's office.

"There are sores which don't heal, unexplained bleeding, loss of appetite, all the suspicious signs, yet they stay away," said Dr. Schenken, chairman of the executive committee of the Nebraska chapter.

If people would only go to a doctor early the cure rate could be improved by 25 per cent, he said.

Winchell Again Red Cross Head

Lincoln-Star Special

BEATRICE, Neb.—Members of the Gage County Red Cross Chapter re-elected Dr. James Winchell as county chairman and Mrs. Wayne Waddell as county secretary at the annual election meeting of the group.

Others elected included W. J. Winker, vice chairman and Jerry Schiermeyer, treasurer. Newly elected to the board of directors were Mrs. Tom Morin, Miss Alene Voss, Mrs. E. D. Warren and Dr. C. T. Frerichs, all of Beatrice, and Mrs. Hazel Campbell of Wymore.
